

Organization: University of Rochester Medical Center | Strong Internal Medicine
Location: Rochester, New York

Position: Nurse Practitioner or Physician Assistant (Primary Care)

Position Description:

A wonderful opportunity to impact patients' lives in a team-based primary care practice that integrates clinical care and education.

Part of the General Medicine Division at URM, Strong Internal Medicine's (SIM) purpose is to help its diverse patient's live full and healthy lives – and the practice is equipped to do so. An NCQA-recognized Patient Centered Medical Home, SIM's highly team-based care model includes attending physicians, internal medicine residents, advanced practice providers, registered nurses, social workers, behavioral health providers, clinical pharmacist, registered dietitian, care managers, and administrative support.

SIM is looking for an NP with a passion for improving health outcomes for diverse patient populations who oftentimes have challenging medical and social circumstances. A critical and valued part of the care team, the NP ensures continuity of care for patients. Direct care includes the evaluation and management of acute and chronic conditions in clinic. An autonomous provider, the NP will bill for clinic services. Indirect care includes coordination with the team, follow-up on lab results, patient calls/MyChart messages, and managing patients on anticoagulation medications.

We're looking for a compassionate individual, preferably with 2 years of experience as a NP in an ambulatory care environment. Our NP must also have excellent communication skills, empathy, and ability to thrive in a fast-paced, multidisciplinary team-based environment. Current certification through NYS as an NP required. The NP will also participate in the education of learners (students and new employees), using clinical learning experiences, knowledge sharing and skill training.
