

TAILORED PROGRAMS INCLUDING LODGING

STAY AT THE OLDEST FARM
OF TIERRA DEL FUEGO, founded in 1886 by Rev. Thomas Bridges.

We offer the following
Programs Including Lodging:

- B&B (Bed and Breakfast)
- Half Pension
- Full Pension
- All-inclusive

We have four guest houses:

Uribe´s House (former Foreman´s House):

Two double rooms and one single. Shared bathroom. The house is heated by a wood stove in the central hall. Free use of the kitchen.

Nail´s House (former Shepherd´s House):

Two double rooms, each with a private bathroom and gas heater. Shared kitchenette.

Minnie May:

Private house with two double rooms, living-dinning room, kitchen and bathroom.

Yekadahby:

Private house with two double rooms, living-dinning room, kitchen and bathroom.

OUR OVERNIGHT GUESTS DO NOT PAY THE ENTRANCE FEE

---

THE DIFFERENT OPTIONS OF TAILORED PROGRAMS INCLUDING LODGING WE OFFER ARE:

Bed and Breakfast Program

- Simple breakfast, left at the house the previous night.
- Free use of kitchen or kitchenette (depending on the house chosen).
- Step back in time during the walking tour of Harberton homestead, a National Historical Monument, within regular tour hours. This tour includes the history of the Bridges family and their relationship with the natives, the Park (first nature reserve of Tierra del Fuego), the family cemetery, replicas of yahgan huts, the old-time shearing shed, carpenter's shop, the boat house (which houses the second oldest boat built in Tierra del Fuego) and the beautiful Main House garden.
- Immerse yourself in the depths of the sea during the guided tour of the singular Acatushun Bird and Marine Mammal Museum, within regular tour hours. Here you will see life sized representations of sub-aquatic sea life and part of the extensive collection of skeletons gathered by Dr. Natalie Goodall and her students, along the Fuegian shores. If you are inclined, you can also visit the Laboratory and the Bone House, where specimens are cleaned and worked on.
- This program can be combined with the Half Pension or Full Pension options.

Lunch and dinner are NOT included, but you can have lunch at Acawaia Restaurant at noon, or purchase a carry-out dinner, which will be taken to the house for you .

Half Pension Program

- Breakfast, served at Manacatush Tea House.
- Dinner, consisting of starters, main dish, one non-alcoholic beverage per person, dessert and coffee, is served at Acawaia Restaurant. If you prefer, you can have it sent to the house. Dinner can be exchanged for lunch.
- Free use of kitchen or kitchenette (depending on the house chosen).
- Step back in time during the walking tour of Harberton homestead, a National Historical Monument, within regular tour hours. This tour includes the history of the Bridges family and their relationship with the natives, the Park (first nature reserve of Tierra del Fuego), the family cemetery, replicas of yahgan huts, the old-time shearing shed, carpenter's shop, the boat house (which houses the second oldest boat built in Tierra del Fuego) and the beautiful Main House garden.
- Immerse yourself in the depths of the sea during the guided tour of the singular Acatushun Bird and Marine Mammal Museum, within regular tour hours. Here you will see life sized representations of sub-aquatic sea life and part of the extensive collection of skeletons gathered by Dr. Natalie Goodall and her students, along the Fuegian shores. If you are inclined, you can also visit the Laboratory and the Bone House, where specimens are cleaned and worked on.
- This program can be combined with the B&B or Full Pension options.

Full Pension Program

- Breakfast at Manacatush Tea House, including home-made delights.
  - Lunch and dinner, consisting of starters, main dish, one non-alcoholic beverage per person, dessert and coffee, are served at Acawaia Restaurant.
  - Afternoon tea at Manacatush Tea House.
  - Step back in time during the walking tour of Harberton homestead, a National Historical Monument, outside regular tour hours, and with a private guide. This tour includes the history of the Bridges family and their relationship with the natives, the Park (first nature reserve of Tierra del Fuego), the family cemetery, replicas of yahgan huts, the old shearing shed, carpenter's shop, the boat house (which houses the second oldest boat built in Tierra del Fuego) and the beautiful Main House garden.
  - Immerse yourself in the depths of the sea during the guided tour of the singular Acatushun Bird and Marine Mammal Museum, outside regular tour hours and with a private guide. Here you will see life sized representations of sub-aquatic sea life and part of the extensive collection of skeletons gathered by Dr. Natalie Goodall and her students, along the Fuegian shores. If you are inclined, you can also visit the Laboratory and the Bone House, where specimens are cleaned and worked on.
  - Private guide for both tours.
  - Self guided walk around Harberton Peninsula.
- This program can be combined with the B&B or Half Pension options.

- Immerse yourself in the depths of the sea during the guided tour of the singular Acatushun Bird and Marine Mammal Museum, outside regular tour hours and with a private guide. Here you will see life sized representations of sub-aquatic sea life and part of the extensive collection of skeletons gathered by Dr. Natalie Goodall and her students, along the Fuegian shores. If you are inclined, you can also visit the Laboratory and the Bone House, where specimens are cleaned and worked on.
- Access to Yecapasela (Martillo) Penguin Rookery, free of charge. This tour is provided by Piratour.
- Guided walk around Harberton Peninsula.
- Visit to an active beaver dam at twilight.
- Free use of 4 mountain bikes.
- Private guide for both tours and additional walks (except for the penguin rookery tour).

All-Inclusive Program

- Full Breakfast at Manacatush Tea House, including a variety home-made delights.
- Lunch and dinner, consisting of starters, main dish, one non-alcoholic beverage per person, dessert and coffee, are served at Acawaia Restaurant.
- Afternoon tea at Manacatush Tea House, with option to try any of the delicious home-made confections sold there.
- Step back in time during the walking tour of Harberton homestead, a National Historical Monument, outside regular tour hours, and with a private guide. This tour includes the history of the Bridges family and their relationship with the natives, the Park (first nature reserve of Tierra del Fuego), the family cemetery, replicas of yahgan huts, the old shearing shed, carpenter's shop, the boat house (which houses the second oldest boat built in

HOUSE OPTIONS

URIBE´S HOUSE (former Foreman´s House):

This house is one of the oldest of Harberton, probably from around 1888-1890. It was originally used by the Nielsen family, the captain of a ship that spent nearly 14 years abandoned in the Harberton Bay. The Bridges invited Captain Nielsen and his family to live in this house so they would not have to remain aboard the ship, where several of their children were born. Nielsen was the first foreman that Harberton had.

After that, and for many years, it was Uribe´s house. Miguel Uribe was our foreman and worked practically all his life for the Bridges-Goodall family.

In 2016, the house was remodeled to make it more comfortable for our visitors. It has two double bedrooms, one single, and a shared bathroom. The house is heated by a modern wood-burning stove in the central hall, and has a kitchen that can be used freely by our guests. The house is decorated with original artwork done by family members and friends.

From the porch, you have an amazing view of the entire farm, Harberton Bay, the Beagle Channel and the mountains.

NAIL´S HOUSE (former Shepherd´s House):

This old house is one of the original farm buildings and was used for decades by shepherds and shearers who worked here. Edmundo Nail was the last person to live here.

In 2011, and again in 2014, it was remodeled in order to receive guests who requested to stay at Harberton. This house now has two triple rooms, with private bathrooms and gas heating. It has a shared kitchenette. The house is decorated with original artwork done by family members and friends.

From the wooden deck, only a few meters away from the shore, you have a beautiful view of Harberton Bay, Picton Island, the mountains and the rest of the homestead. If the weather permits, it is well worth the effort of waking up very early to see the sun rise over the bay.

MINNIE MAY:

Minnie May Lawrence was the youngest daughter of the second family of white people to inhabit these lands. She married the youngest son of the Bridges family, and their marriage was the first celebrated between whites in Tierra del Fuego. Their story was romantic, but dramatic. Both are buried in the family cemetery, within the Nature Reserve that you can visit.

This house was built in 2018-19 to provide a new kind of service for our guests. It has two double bedrooms, a living-dining room, kitchen, and private bathroom. The house is heated by a wood burning stove. It is decorated with original artwork done by family members and friends.

From the wooden deck, only a few meters away from the shore, you have a beautiful view of Harberton Bay, Picton Island, the mountains and the rest of Harberton homestead. If the weather permits, it is well worth the effort of waking up very early to see the sun rise over the bay.

YEKADAHBY:

Yekadahby was the name given by the Yamana natives to Johana Varder, the younger sister of Mary Ann Varder Bridges. It is known that, at some point in history, Mary Ann wrote a letter to her family talking about the anguish she felt at having to raise her six children alone in this inhospitable land. Young Johana decided to leave her comfortable life in the South of England to help her sister to raise her children. She was dearly loved by her nieces and nephews as well as by the natives (Yekadahby means "little mother").

This house was built in 2018-19 to provide a new kind of service for our guests. It has two double bedrooms, a living-dining room, kitchen, and private bathroom. The house is heated by a wood burning stove. It is decorated with original artwork done by family members and friends.

From the wooden deck, only a few meters away from the shore, you have a beautiful view of Harberton Bay, Picton Island, the mountains and the rest of Harberton homestead. If the weather permits, it is well worth the effort of waking up very early to see the sun rise over the bay.

