

No dancing until arrests made in PPE, Steinhoff, VBS scandals

I COULDN'T agree more with Lorenzo Davids. There is really nothing to dance about, the country is in deep crisis.

Corruption is the order of the day, murder, rape. Collapse of SOEs, theft of railway line cables, retrenchment due to Covid-19.

Why must we dance? Instead we should be reflecting.

Think of turnaround strategies from these crises.

But we are ordered to dance. I'm not dancing until arrests are made on PPE scandal, I'm not dancing until arrests are made on the Steinhoff scandal, I'm not dancing until arrests are made on the VBS scandal.

When will there be closure on all these commissions?

Why are only the poor rotting in jail and the politically connected still roaming our streets and earning big money while accused of theft and money laundering?

I'm not dancing until the socio-economic issues are addressed.

Why must I dance if someone does not have water to drink?

Why must I dance if some communities do not have a school for the children?

You may dance with your friends and family, Mr President, since you also receive donations to campaign within your own political organisation.

How do I dance on an empty stomach?

Where's industrial development in areas like Giyani? All is concentrated in JHB, DBN and CPT. What about other areas? Hence these cities are overcrowded.

Please, Mr President, let's address these issues.
