

Together Again Expo Postponed Until January 2021

DALLAS, TX – (October 6, 2020) This week, Alliance Nationwide Exposition and the Texas Live Events Coalition working in conjunction with the Kay Bailey Hutchison Convention Center in Dallas, TX have decided to postpone the upcoming Together Again Expo. The event is rescheduled for January 15, 2021.

The decision was made as a result of the catastrophic impact that continues to reverberate throughout the live events industry amidst the ongoing vacancy of legislative acknowledgment, financial support, and a definitive reopening plan. It has been reported by the Live Events Coalition that up to 70% of companies serving the events industry are currently closed. While industry professionals, organizations, and resources continue to be suppressed, the initiative set forth by Together Again Expo to bring industry stakeholders together and demonstrate how events can be conducted safely and responsibly is not feasible. “Together Again Expo’s goal has been to help build a community that positively impacts the recovery of the live events industry. We would be remiss if we did not revisit and evaluate the upcoming event experience for both attendees and exhibitors in the current climate, which continues to evolve,” says Mark Yuska, owner of Alliance Nationwide Exposition and founder of the Together Again Expo. As a result of this evaluation, Together Again Expo has decided to take this prudent and necessary action. “We are sincerely grateful to our industry partners who continue to graciously invest resources and time to fuel the Together Again mission,” says Yuska.

Together Again Expo, Alliance Nationwide Exposition, and the Live Events Coalition remain optimistic that the upcoming Dallas event rescheduled for January will encompass the continued collaboration and enthusiasm of the live events community in the Texas region.
