

We are revolutionizing the meaning of therapy.

We need to treat the mind and body together to improve quality of life for any person.

We help educate our clients on the human body and how they can be a part of their own healing process. Sometimes it's just an extra minute to calm the mind and feel better. Sometimes it's just to have someone listen. We do both.

ONE TO ONE

“ It was riveting to the point of being immersive.

Luke, Installation User

In one-on-one sessions, we use a proprietary system of therapy called The CORE Movement System coupled with massage therapy. While building a close personal relationship with each individual, we are able to listen to what they want to accomplish for themselves and tailor an therapy experience just for them.

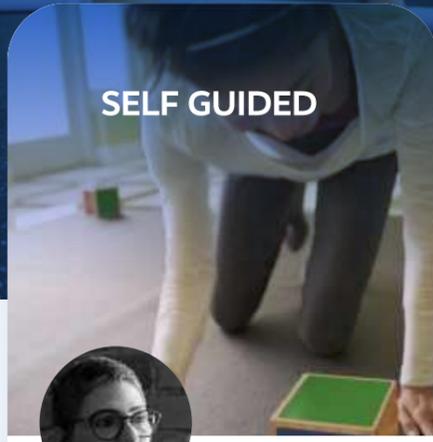

ONE TO MANY

“ The only limitation is your own imagination.

Louie Arias, Exercise Therapy

In larger groups, one therapist is able to help many individuals rediscover their own state of play and self-healing. After a training and certification process, movement therapists can work with groups around the world to help guide each person towards improving both mental and physical health.

SELF GUIDED

“ It keeps me always on the edge of growing.

Amanda, Neurological Therapist

While not everyone feels comfortable or able to participate in sessions that involve others, CORE Movement System kits can be taken home for private use. By following instructions and engaging in play in a preferred space, any individual can work on elevating their quality of life in the way that best suits them.

INSTALLATION

“ It's beneficial to my training and rehab business.

Joe Alexander, Resistance Studio

Other organizations, from hospitals to therapy offices, can bring larger installations of the CUBE and other movement therapy kits into their spaces for their patients as well. Any space that can accommodate for an installation will become space that benefits all.

Joe Kleman, Founder

Four years ago, I had surgery for two hernias. I was told I would recover from surgery quickly, but six weeks later I was still in pain, so I combined what I had learned about dance, movement and infant development to create a system to heal myself and become even healthier.

MOVE is focused on treating an individual as a whole person.

We provide treatments that are movement focused and customized to the needs of the client. We provide a proprietary system of therapy called The CORE Movement System to increase the mind-body connection using strategy games tailored to the any person's abilities.

Discover what moves you.

Let's do this together.
