PRESIDENT'S REPORT November 2021

Thank you to all who attended the "IES Clambake & Blackout Game Night." A round of applause to the winners of the night: Marian, Dave, Greg, Justin, and Brian. Also, thank you to Bob Doherty and Dyke Riffle for hosting the night of fun. And a big thank you to Wolff Bros. Supply for sponsoring the event and Riffle Assoc. for beverages.

Next on our list of events, we have an AIA presentation titled "Visually Comfortable Lighting Design for Interior Architecture." The presentation is scheduled for Wednesday, November 17 at 11:30 a.m. at the Hilton Garden Inn at 1100 Carnegie Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio. Kristen Mallardi will be presenting, helping us explore the transition from paper tasks to electronic mediums in our offices, schools, and healthcare environments.

The focus on screens in our lives has reopened our "eyes" to the importance of quality lighting and mitigating glare to ensure our workspaces are comfortable. This course will also explore current popular methodologies to measure glare, and the choices that can be used to ensure spaces are visually comfortable where people and productivity are key.
