

Position Opening: Landscape Architect

Restoration Design Group is a small, interdisciplinary landscape architecture and engineering firm focused on open space design, planning, and ecological restoration. The firm's work was founded in urban creek restoration and public access design and has evolved to cover a wide range of landscape architectural projects. We strive to create places for all people to play, observe, retreat and relax - to be reconnected with the the natural world, and through our work foster better stewardships and empathy towards each other and the environment.

Additional information about RDG can be found on our website:

www.RestorationDesignGroup.com and also our social media accounts (@RDG_Inc on Twitter and @RestorationDesignGroup on Instagram).

Position: We are seeking a self-motivated licensed landscape architect to design and manage open space and restoration projects under the supervision of our Principal Landscape Architect and Design Director. This position will support RDG's efforts to bring projects from conceptual design to construction documentation, and through construction oversight and post-project monitoring. This includes field work in and along creeks, drafting construction documents, conducting site assessments in the field, and producing digital and/or freehand graphic illustrations. Initially, the position will be remote (home office). Once we are permitted to return to our office, it will be based in RDG's West Berkeley office.

Essential skills and experience required include:

- Landscape Architect license (California)
- 5+ years of professional design/planning experience
- Experience in project and client management
- Experience developing construction documents in AutoCAD
- Working knowledge of Adobe Suite, Sketch-up, and other digital rendering tools
- Strong interest in creek restoration/restoration ecology
- Strong verbal and written communication skills
- Willingness and ability to learn and adapt to new technologies
- Refined graphic design and graphic communication sensibility
- Undergraduate or graduate degree in landscape architecture or related field

Salary: Commensurate with experience, includes health and retirement benefits.

Restoration Design Group is committed to inclusivity and diversity in its practice and in its hiring. An equivalent combination of education, training, and experience to effectively perform the job will be considered.
