

I Heard Your Voice in the Wind

I heard your voice in the wind today
and I turned to see your face.
The warmth of the wind caressed me
as I silently stood in place.
I felt your touch in the sun today
as its warmth filled the sky.
I closed my eyes for your embrace
and my spirit soared high.
I saw your eyes in the window pane
as I watched the falling rain.
It seemed that, as each raindrop fell,
it quietly said your name.
I held you close in my heart today.
It made me feel complete.
Yes, you have died, but you are not gone.
You're always a part of me.
As long as the sun keeps shining,
the rains fall, the winds blow,
you will live in me forever.
This is what my heart knows.

Ryan was very proud of the business he built, Rocky Mountain Exteriors and the many customers who became his friends.

Abbi was his pride and joy! She was the most important person in his life and the center of his universe.

Ryan was happiest with family whether it was at the Smith River Cabin with his grandparents, Elmer and Mary Grace Johnson, who meant the world to him or around the dinner table talking and laughing with family and friends.

Ryan was lucky to have two amazing Dads during his lifetime who he could always depend on for advice and comfort.

He loved golfing with friends, especially making a big putt to put his team on top.

He loved the Dallas Cowboys, the Montana Grizzlies and Fantasy Football.

He loved hunting, fishing and golfing with family and friends.

Ryan had a larger-than-life personality but he also had a tender heart. He was a loving and caring person willing to help anyone in need.
