our timeline

1999-2000

Our company started with its first factory under the name of "United Company for Plastic Bags" that is still currently operating to this day under the same name, back at the time our production rate was 150 tonnes/month.

2003

ObourPlast bought its second production line and increase its production rate to 300 tonnes/month.

2005

ObourPlast was founded. Also known under the name of "Obour Company for Plastic Industries".

2007

In 2007 ObourPlast purchased a new production line that increased the production of polypropylene woven bags to an additional 300 tonnes/month

2010

ObourPlast started offering a new product - Big sacks.

2014

We started improving its printing technology to offer better printing options for our clients giving them the option to print up to 6 colors on each side of the bag.

2015 - 2017

ObourPlast started working on a new extension to offer even larger production rate and scaling our business up to be able to cover our clients' needs reaching a production rate of 800 tonnes/month

2019

ObourPlast purchased its third plant under the name of "ObourPlast 2".

2020

ObourPlast made a new deal with starlinger to add the following to their production line:

- Lamination production line.
- AD*STAR production line.
- 8 color printing technology machines.
