

Privacy Statement

DID-IT BV Privacy Statement for the DID-IT website is made to protect your privacy rights according to the EU General Data Protection Regulation, GDPR, and to give you control over your personal data.

DID-IT, named as we in the following document, needs to collect information about you to be able to improve and serve you better. We want to provide you with our privacy policy transparent and accessible about your data that we process.

We collect your personal data via the DID-IT website, by using this website you accept our practices as described in this document.

We may update our Privacy Statement by changes in technology or EU legislation, the latest version will always be accessible through our site.

Personal information

By visiting our website and accepting our Privacy Statement we can collect your general data.

Your personal data will be protected by appropriate security measures and safeguards according to the General Data Protection Regulation.

By filling in the contact form we collect the information and use this information to complete the transaction you have requested. We will handle all your personal information with discretion, except where it is a legal or statistical requirement.

We can use your information provided by using our website or using our contact form to provide you with personalised, tailor made services.

We can use statistics to identify the use of our website and optimize the site accordingly.

Acquisition

When you apply for vacancies and send us personal information, this will be subject to the Privacy Policy of DID-IT BV company, in addition of the Privacy Statement of the website.

Disclosure

We will not use your personal data for other purposes than for which you supplied the information and not have it used for other persons or organisations unless:

- * The information is necessary to answer your question or request you have made,
- * It is required by law to give this information,
- * There are grounds to believe that it is necessary to prevent a threat to life or health,
- * You have given us permission to reveal the information for certain purposes.

Data we collect

Our website is to serve our contacts, clients, suppliers and other interested parties about the company, our products and services.

We do not collect personal information of individual visitors other than information generated by the website for the functionality and the development of the website:

- * time and date of visiting our website
- * IP address to visit the website
- * Browser used to visit the website and URL used to link to our website (backlinks, search engines)
- * Google Analytics, no traceable statistical data, to detect trends and get insights to improve.

How we secure your personal information

We have implemented all safeguards to protect your personal data and information sent to DID-IT, in a secure environment only accessible by authorised people. We take all steps necessary and possible. Any question or remark about the Privacy Statement can be addressed to info@diditorganic.nl