Color:

Pale golden yellow with bright green hues.

Aroma:

Lifted floral aromas with juicy apple, pear and nectarine notes and a hint of creaminess on the nose.

Palate:

Very appealing on the palate with vibrant fruit flavors and a silky, rounded mouthfeel.

Winemaking & Viticulture:

The 2020 vintage was an excellent vintage in New Zealand and will definitely be one to remember with the country being locked down right in the middle of harvest due to Covid-19. A warmer and drier season than normal, with very settled weather over lockdown resulted in a classic 'Indian summer' which seemed to keep on giving.

The grapes for this wine were grown on four vineyards located in the upper reaches of the Ngaruroro river in Hawke's Bay.

A slow, temperature controlled fermentation of the small parcels was undertaken. These parcels were then blended and the wine was bottled young to capture the aromatic characters and freshness.

Wine Analysis:

Alcohol 13 % v/v

Residual sugar 5.6 g/L

Acidity 4.8 g/L

pH 3.4

Food Match:

This wine is delicious on its own or enjoy slightly chilled with a chicken Caesar salad.
