

Charge Enterprises Inc. Accelerates Paris Rollout by Leveraging Existing Bike Sharing Infrastructure

PARIS – February 2, 2021 – Charge Enterprises Inc. (OTC PINK: CRGE), announced that its Infrastructure division, dedicated to building the largest global network of EV charging, storage, and service stations for electric mopeds and e-scooters, is increasing its rollout of docks and charging stations in Paris by utilizing existing city infrastructure.

Charge Infrastructure began deploying stations in Paris in June 2020 and will now further expand that presence, with the goal of deploying Charge's unique docking and charging stations in more than 100 locations over the next 18 months. Charge will roll out its newly evolved stations, which are powered from the existing electrical grid and require no battery swapping.

"Our expansion in the city of Paris is a big step toward ensuring e-scooters are organized, docked, and charged in a metropolis that has been overrun by incorrectly parked scooters, creating safety concerns on sidewalks and leaving few charged vehicles ready for use. Expanding our existing presence in Paris was an easy choice given local demand for micro-mobility, and we look forward to this contribution to our growing footprint," said Andrew Fox, CEO of Charge Enterprises Inc.

Charge continues to grow in both Europe and the U.S. With new support from an exclusive manufacturing agreement with Quebec-based Poitras Industries to meet increased urban demand for micro-mobility infrastructure, further expansion in Paris advances Charge Infrastructure's goal of becoming the leader in the e-mobility charging space.
