

Sr Full-stack Developer

join us making recruitment more diverse, equitable and inclusive

Lead role in a second career step? Yes, you can!

At CorTexter your coding will get a new dimension. Of course you will delight customers with the smooth running, beautiful stuff you make. But at the same time you will build a more equal and inclusive labour market. The mentality is 'get good things done'.

We are CorTexter, a super young company situated in the heart of Rotterdam, founded by two complementary souls: one is a tech-savvy psychologist, and the other is a human oriented computer scientist. Both accomplished in their respective areas; both innovative entrepreneurs breaking the rules for a living. Together, they build a dream, a company, a team. And now they ask you to join them.

WARNING: Boring stuff below

QUALIFICATIONS

Some kind of degree or certificate. A good story of accomplishments will do, too. As long as you are on top of your game and have struggled enough to know how to work and overcome issues.

7+ years of experience in developing software solutions. Yes, you may count your endless list of private and school projects, too. We just want to be sure that you are the real deal.

Experienced in JavaScript. You dream in React. Your experience in HTML and CSS can save the day. You might have flirted with Python a bit.

Enough knowledge of RESTful Web Services to make it work solidly, reliably and safely.

You excel in MySQL and are eager to give MongoDB a spin.

You have worked in a dynamic, agile project environment, preferably using Scrum.

You love the bigger screens over the smaller screens. iOS and Android are foul words you will not use in public.

We are a SaaS B2B company. Look this up before you apply and fake that you already new what this was.

'SKILLS'

A high level of professionalism. Strong sense of teamwork, integrity, self-motivation, and a positive attitude.

Result-driven, fast learner eager to explore new horizons of knowledge.

Analytical thinker able to creatively resolve complex problems, or ask smart questions with which you show that you know the alternatives.

Good written and verbal communication skills, both in English and Dutch.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

The position is 36-40 hours per week, pays € 3.550 per month (for 40 hours per week), is based in Rotterdam. We are a digital first company, also in our work environment. This doesn't scare you, just as working from home doesn't scare you. Post-Covid we will be more in the office, because we prefer live contact, but please understand that this should by then be limited to 2 days a week anyway (you are welcome to be in house all the time, but this is certainly not encouraged). You'll be part of a growing team that grows the products and impact we make. And you will grow with them.
