The Company also announced that it filed its Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2022 with the Securities and Exchange Commission on November 10, 2022.

The Company reported a net loss of $7.1 million or ($1.05) per basic and diluted share for the three months ended September 30, 2022, compared to a net loss of $4.6 million or ($0.68) per basic and diluted share for the same period last year. The increase in net loss is due to the increased exploration efforts at the Company's Lucky Shot project as compared to the prior year."

Rick Van Nieuwenhuysse, the Company's President and CEO commented, "Since receipt of our 404 "Wet Lands" permit this summer, Kinross has been busy advancing road and camp construction at the Manh Choh project. Construction activities will slow down during the winter months and pick back up in the spring time. Meanwhile, we have been very busy at our 100% owned Lucky Shot project where we have so far completed 23 drill holes. I am pleased to report that all of the drill holes have intersected the Lucky Shot vein with our geologists logging and sampling the holes. As everyone in the industry is experiencing, assaying is slower than desired, but we are looking forward to releasing our initial pending results in the coming weeks."
