TACTICAL ANALYSIS

BUILD-UP PHASE

It is easy for him to break the first line of pressure through either his driving or passing ability. He sees a free space and attacks it. He is an important player to build-up from the back.

BIOTYPE

He is strong and tall. His biotype allows him to win ground challenges. He protects the ball well while driving it and in small-sided situations.

OFFENSIVE ARRIVAL

He frequently participates in attack. He arrives well to connect lateral crosses. He goes to the end line by driving the ball near the sideline in order to make accurate deliveries toward his teammates.

TACTICAL ANALYSIS

SPEED

He is fast to both make coverages in defense and goes into space in attack. He transitions into attack quickly in order to break the defensive line.

DYNAMISM

He shows up over the half field to generate play. He is dynamic enough to associate with his teammates. He passes the ball and then moves into space to receive it again.

DRIBBLING

He succeeds in 1v1 offensive duels due to his drible capacity. He uses some body feints to get away from the marker. His principal tool is his ability to make inside and outside cuts while driving the ball or being static.
