About Us

Mercanis reinvents the buying of services for B2B clients and thus drives digital transformation in indirect procurement. Thanks to Mercanis buying services becomes smart, efficient and compliant.

Vision

We at Mercanis envisage a future in which buying services has become so trivial that procurement professionals can shift from operative to more strategic tasks. Ultimately, we believe in the benefits of technology to revolutionize how organizations manage their resources and identify savings.

Mission

Mercanis disrupts how companies collaborate with their service providers, whilst increasing transparency in the selection process. We do so by leveraging millions of data points to find the best providers for our users. Ultimately, we want to provide an efficient, transparent, and digital way to procure, manage, and analyze B2B services.

Service Offering/ USP

Mercanis offers a platform through which businesses can easily structure their service buying efforts. Mercanis offers the ability to procure complex services in a digital end-to-end process whilst facilitating cross-departmental collaboration and thus reduces inefficiencies. Thanks to a wide-spanning service provider pool, Mercanis supports its clients from the very first step and can generate significant cost savings and efficiency gains through best-value suppliers. Ultimately, Mercanis firstly allows procurement professionals keep full control about their service spend down to granular project-, category- or project level. Using technology, we aim to empower buyers and other users become the most efficient versions of themselves.

Financing

Mercanis is already backed by many reputable Venture Capital Investors at its early stage. The pre-seed financing was closed upon foundation in October 2020. A large group of companies and renowned seed investors already trust Mercanis. Amongst others, our supporters have held senior management positions in and built companies such as N26, Wefox, Tier, Scoutbee, SAP, RWE and BCG. Mercanis has strong financial support and focusses on the digitalization of the service sector. On its way to success, Mercanis is moving faster than ever and is uniting some of the most motivated, humble and intelligent people as a team.
