

Star Gold Appoints Mr. Ron Nilson, the CEO of Ground Force Worldwide To Its Board of Directors

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho, Feb 18th, 2014 -- Star Gold Corp. ("Star Gold" or the "Company") (OTC Markets: SRGZ) announced today that Mr. Ron Nilson has been appointed to its Board of Directors as a replacement for Mr. Scott Jenkins, who has resigned from the Board.

Ron Nilson is the President and CEO of Ground Force Worldwide ("Ground Force") based in Post Falls, Idaho. Mr. Nilson has run Ground Force since 2000. Ground Force is an engineering and manufacturing company, specializing in mining equipment. Ground Force designs, engineers and manufactures specialized equipment to be used in open pit and underground mines around the world. It is a company with global reach - operating three factories in north Idaho and factories in Newcastle, England and in Lima, Peru. Ground Force is licensed by Caterpillar Inc. as an OEM Manufacturer and continues to build many of its products based on Caterpillars' chassis.

Commenting on the appointment of Mr. Nilson to the Board of Star Gold, Mr. David Segelov, CEO stated, "I am delighted to welcome Ron to Star Gold's Board. Mr. Nilson provides a depth of mining engineering equipment expertise and problem solving talents that will be necessary for Star Gold to develop its flagship property, Longstreet, in Nye County Nevada. Mr. Nilson is already familiar with Star Gold as he is a shareholder of the Company and has been to the Longstreet site to review the project. He is also familiar with mining operations in Nevada generally, having supplied equipment, through Ground Force, to mining projects in Nevada, including open pit mining operations near the Company's Longstreet project. We also take this opportunity to thank Scott Jenkins for his contributions over the past four years as a Board member. Mr. Jenkins will remain as Star Gold's Chief Geologist, based in Tonopah, and remains a crucial element in managing the Longstreet project."
