INTERFAITH ALLIANCE OF IOWA  1996 – 2021

Meet our community speaker —

Rev. Dr. Jennifer Harvey

Award-winning author, public speaker;
Professor of Religion and Associate Provost of Campus Equity & Inclusion, Drake University

Rev. Dr. Jennifer Harvey is a writer, teacher, and activist who has long been engaged in work for racial justice and white antiracism. Her books include the New York Times bestseller Raising White Kids: Bringing Up Children in Racially Unjust America and Dear White Christians: For Those Still Longing for Racial Reconciliation. Dr. Harvey has written for the New York Times, CNN and countless other publications and is a widely sought public speaker. She has appeared on nationally syndicated television and radio programs, including Good Morning America and CNN's Town Hall on Racism with Sesame Street, and as a guest on National Public Radio's "All Things Considered" with Michel Martin and "It's Been a Minute" with Sam Sanders. Dr. Harvey has been on faculty at Drake University for nearly 20 years and currently serves as the Associate Provost for Campus Equity and Inclusion. She is also ordained in the American Baptist Churches (USA).
