Case Studies

After Hurricane Michael, George Duren, owner of a Florida Piggly Wiggly, received extensive flood and wind damage, and the insurance company attempted to negotiate an unsatisfactory claim that left a majority of the loss uncovered. Ironclaim negotiated two separate payments, one for wind damage and one for flood damage. The wind portion was settled to the clients' satisfaction. FEMA disagreed with the flood portion, so we are currently filing suit against FEMA to ensure both structure and content limits are reached. The initial offer of $510,000 has been increased to $2.8 million.
