Only 5 years ago, we were cutting the ribbon to open an office. It’s remarkable how much has been accomplished and all because of our contributors, volunteers, and project partners. Since our office opened, we’ve awarded just under $4 million in grants and scholarships to deserving organizations and students that community leaders helped select. These pages are just a snapshot of what contributors made possible.

During the five years, communities have greatly benefited from the philanthropic investments of our fund partners and donors. Contributors have shaped and guided our priorities and impacted organizations. We’ve had the privilege of honoring those who are precious, remembering lives treasured and lost too soon, and supporting impactful causes. And the difference made is not only to recipients, but also to our board, staff, and all the volunteers who have been involved in the stewardship of charitable dollars.

We’ve worked with more than 100 volunteers each year who take time to review and score applications, interview students, and discuss with other volunteers the most deserving recipients. Our incredible project partners have been “all-in” on shared projects and initiatives – Yadkin County Schools, Chambers of Commerce, the many partners on the childcare expansion team, the Interfaith Alliance of Clemmons & Lewisville, the school appreciation planning teams, and the COVID response teams.

Current and former board members (including our Clemmons Rotary Founders) have not only invested their personal resources, but also have helped shape the culture, values, and a foundation focus that is centered on the priorities that our contributors care about. Our board has led and served with vision, commitment, and an integrity that attracts new community investment. And of course, we’ve been blessed with an incredible staff team – Greg Keener, Mick Bowman, and our Shore Scholars college advisor, Djuna Gallion.

Our work together represents the level of stewardship, integrity, heart, and accountability that every contributor wants to see in community philanthropy. You’ve not only helped to create the Shallow Ford Foundation, you’ve continually made us better with every year. It’s such a joy to serve you, serve with you, learn from you, and celebrate you.

In gratitude,

Sandi Scannelli, President/CEO
“What are you going to do today to get closer to your goals?” This question, found written on a whiteboard in the bedroom of Timothy Matthew Dunn, gives us a glimpse into the life of this young man. Tim Dunn, at only 31, passed away unexpectedly on October 4, 2022 from an undetected aneurysm. A tragedy to lose anyone so young and made more difficult with Tim because of his impactful influence that inspired all those who knew him – from his wrestling team at WFHS and college to his clients and colleagues when working as an Associate Financial Advisor with Northwestern Mutual. His many friends became additional family members.

Tim’s father, John Dunn, authored his son’s story:

“Tim was born in Long Island, New York on February 21, 1991, the middle child of 3 boys. He started wrestling at the age of 5. All the boys wrestled. Tim loved football, baseball, and wrestling and was a stand-out in all sports. His personality was one of laughter, hard work, and fun. He did everything with the intent of being the best he could be. Tim especially excelled in wrestling and as he got older, he even started to assist in the kids wrestling program (ages 5-12) to give back to the program. We moved to NC in 2007 where he immediately joined West Forsyth wrestling in his Junior year. Tim’s sense of ‘team’ and ‘dedication’ was clearly exhibited in his ability to motivate himself and others.

Tim was a leader and as all good leaders do, he led by example. He played hard and worked hard. He won many matches and qualified for the state tournament. Tim graduated WFHS in 2009 and attended UNC-Pembroke where he continued wrestling. His college coaches and teammates said that his humor, work ethic, and dedication shined and he was a motivator. He continued as an assistant coach at WFHS during and after college where he was part of two WFHS state championship teams.

The best aspects of wrestling were woven into Tim’s personal and professional life. Hard work, dedication, and the concept of team as well as individual accountability towards his life’s goals, were key attributes of his personality. A natural leader, Tim was a member and past president of the Pi Kappa Alpha (PIKE) fraternity. He graduated and pursued a career in financial planning where again his personality and work... to ensure that his name, and more importantly, his legacy of hard work, dedication, and love of family is never forgotten by starting the Timothy Matthew Dunn Memorial Scholarship. Please honor him by ‘Living Like Tim’.

The Shallow Ford Foundation’s new scholarship for WFHS wrestlers and team-support members reflects the program that helped shape who Tim became. It also reflects the heart and practice of the Dunn family, namely to invest in and support those around you. The scholarship recipient is likely to not only receive a financial scholarship, but the ongoing care of Tim’s parents, John and Catherine, and the crowd of friends and family that Tim encouraged and inspired during his too-short, yet impactful life. For all of us, “Living like Tim” means living each day with purpose, dedication and with joy while always caring for others. It was Tim’s white-board for life.

The first Timothy M. Dunn Memorial Scholarship will be awarded this Spring.

‘Living like Tim’ means living each day with purpose, dedication, and with joy while always caring for others. It was Tim’s white-board for life.”

Keeping up with 26 Shore Scholars now enrolled in higher education across the state and beyond is more than our high school mentors could do while also serving in their Yadkin County Schools positions. Through a special grant from the Wayne A. Shore Endowment, the part-time pilot position of a Shore Scholars Advisor was created.

Djuna Gallion joined the foundation in August to serve in this part-time role. Her energy, enthusiasm for teens and young adults, and prior experience in education along with having had 3 children pursuing post-secondary education have been invaluable in this role. Djuna retired in 2021 from Elkin City Schools as a Special Education teacher, serving grades K-12. She received her Bachelor of Science from Western Carolina University in NC, and her teaching certification in Special Education from Longwood University in Virginia. Djuna lives in Yadkinville with her husband, James, and has three sons.

"This position is a fantastic opportunity to help guide students so that they can meet or exceed their educational goals and optimize their college experiences. The transition from high school to college can be overwhelming and a good advisor recognizes the struggles to help navigate, intervene, refer, and advocate for their students."

- Djuna Gallion

Shore Scholars' Events

GAMES TO GOALS

Board games served as the perfect ice-breaker for the Shore Scholars during the annual retreat in September. The retreat, held at Love Out Loud – Yadkin’s Wayne & Bradley Shore House in East Bend, is where students welcomed new scholars and mapped out preferred topics for the monthly sessions during the year. To help students get to know each other, Anthony Pecorella, game designer, consultant, and co-founder of Level Up Labs, LLC in Winston-Salem, provided team-oriented board games to start the day. Following a lively opening session, students brainstormed and prioritized the topics for the year as they prepare for post-secondary education.

Student-identified topics included:
• Day of service with an area nonprofit
• Dining Etiquette for business
• Scholarships and ways to pay for college
• Arts/Culture Trip to Downtown Winston-Salem
• Cooking Class
• Interview Skills
COLLEGE TOURS

Fall is a beautiful time to be on a college campus. This year, the Shore Scholars experienced a taste of life at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and North Carolina State University for their annual college tours. The group learned more about the campuses, had lunch at the NC State dining hall, and enjoyed time together (including ice cream!). The Scholars chose the schools they wanted to visit at the annual retreat. UNC and NC State were among the top choices and made for a perfect day trip.

HOLIDAY GATHERING

The Scholars enjoyed some winter-warming beverages and confections at Milk and Honey Coffee Co. in Yadkinville for their December gathering. This event included the high school scholars and three of our college-age Scholars, who returned to share stories and answer questions about life as a college student. The discussion included tips on managing stress, how to best communicate with advisors and professors, words of advice on the registration process, and a couple of funny stories about life on campus as well.
Adult Scholarships Awarded

The Thad and Mary Bingham Education Assistance Award

Thad and Mary Bingham were long-time Clemmons residents who loved their community, family, and Clemmons United Methodist Church. They generously gave back in a variety of meaningful ways, including the establishment of the Thad and Mary Bingham Fund with the Shallow Ford Foundation, which provided a grant to the Adult Community Scholarship Fund, making this scholarship possible.

Emani Jones
The University of North Carolina at Charlotte

Emani, from Clemmons, is in her second year at UNC Charlotte, studying accounting. She was involved with the Finance Academy at West Forsyth High School and a previous recipient of the Leslie Martin Scholarship award from the Shallow Ford Foundation. She hopes to work as a Certified Public Accountant at one of the Big 4 accounting firms after graduation.

BNI Advantage One Scholarship Award

BNI, Business Networking International, is the world’s leading business referral organization with over 10,000 chapters worldwide. NC WS BNI Advantage One, a local chapter that meets in Bermuda Run, has partnered with the Shallow Ford Foundation this year to launch this new scholarship. The scholarship was funded by a charity golf tournament held in November at Bermuda Run West.

LaShaina Allen
Davidson-Davie Community College

LaShaina works in the healthcare industry and is completing her associates degree in nursing to advance her career while balancing commitments to her family. After completing this program, she plans to enroll in the nurse residency program at Novant Health specializing in critical care.
The Wayne C. Matthews Continuing Education Award

In its second year, this scholarship opportunity is offered to honor Dr. Wayne Matthews, who served as Director of the Yadkin Center at Surry Community College. His family and the entire community remember Dr. Matthews’ life, his contributions, and his tremendous model of servant leadership that he lived daily throughout the community he loved.

Christopher Baziuk
Surry Community College, Yadkin Campus

Christopher attends Surry Community College part-time, alongside one of his 5 children, working towards a certificate in Electrical Systems Technology. His goal is to be self-employed as an electrician after completing his academic program.

"Had I not received The Wayne C. Matthews Educational Award Scholarship for financial aid, I am unsure of how I would have paid for my coursework and continued to pursue my career. My family, consisting of myself and 5 minors, were recently forced to endure a great long term financial and emotional hardship which stripped us of any security of our future. We were completely ruined, hopeless, and left searching for a solution. The Shallow Ford Foundation has provided us with a tremendous blessing. I would like to say thank you very much to the donors and everyone who has contributed in any way. You have provided myself and family with the means to better ourselves and help resolve our financial hardship in the long term. The blessing of this educational opportunity will lead to a stable career and the financial success of our family."

- Christopher Baziuk

A special thank you to our fall scholarship review team members. These community members shared their time and insights in reviewing applications and conducting interviews with candidates for these awards.
Mentorship Workshop

The Foundation sponsored a workshop in August for individuals serving in the role of mentor as part of a Foundation scholarship award. The workshop on August 9th at Lewisville’s Mary Alice Warren Community Center included members of the Salem Glen neighborhood, Reynolda Rotary Club, BNI Advantage One, The Lewisville-Clemmons Chamber of Commerce, and the Shore Scholars program.

What mentoring is—and is not—was unpacked and discussed in depth during the morning session, led by national expert, Allison E. McWilliams, Ph.D. Allison is Assistant Vice President for Mentoring and Alumni Personal & Career Development at Wake Forest University and has written on the topic for Psychology Today, among other places.

Participants traded personal experiences in mentoring. They also left with conversation starters, templates for planning, and other resources to improve their mentoring.

“Mentoring only works when both people make the commitment to show up for each other consistently and work to build a relationship based on trust and mutual respect. At the end of the day, these are relationships between humans, and like any other relationship, mentorship requires intention, care, and work to be successful.”

- Allison E. McWilliams, Ph.D.
Chris Paul Court Celebrated

Nonprofit Showcase

In October, the Lewisville-Clemmons Chamber of Commerce held its annual Nonprofit Showcase to feature the nonprofit organizations serving the area. Approximately 22 organizations set up information tables in the ballroom of the Historic Broyhill Building for Chamber members and guests to stroll through and learn more about services and opportunities to volunteer. The Shallow Ford Foundation staff and board members helped to share more about the foundation’s work with those attending the event.

Career Connections

The Lewisville-Clemmons COVID Response Team awarded its final grant to help address the labor shortages that local employers still face. Career Connections, developed in partnership with the Lewisville-Clemmons Chamber of Commerce, was a 5-part series for those changing careers and unemployed. Each week offered networking and career information about a different field, namely the Trades, Education, Hospitality/Retail, Medical/Health, Finance and Insurance. Panelists from each field presented, followed by a meet-and-greet. Kudos to Denise Heidel and the Chamber for their tremendous work in promotion and coordination of the series.
New Board Member Emeriti

Periodically, the Board of Directors recognize and honor individuals who have served on the Board and made extraordinary contributions to the Foundation, above and beyond customary board service. It is a reflection of the Board’s deep appreciation and its highest recognition in leadership service. Emeritus membership is an honorary role, without specific expectations, duties, or voting privileges. However, Emeritus members have a continuing affiliation with the Foundation and are generally consulted in major organizational decisions. Two individuals were named and elected to Board Member Emeritus status, joining current Emeriti John Bost and Ken Burkel.

JOHN D. CROUCH, JR., CPA, CVA

John Crouch actively served on the board through every iteration of the Foundation – Clemmons Rotary Foundation, Clemmons Community Foundation, now the Shallow Ford Foundation. He has been an enthusiastic, generous contributor of time, talent, and treasure and has been instrumental in the establishment of several current funds. Passionate about the foundation, John has consistently informed and advised on strategies that have contributed to its growth through the years. Because of his deep roots in the organization over so many years, he has served as the Foundation’s historian and has helped to preserve founding principles, purpose, and people.

Given John’s unwavering commitment, with or without such recognition, the Board recognizes that John will always be an instrumental voice for the Foundation. John’s response to being named Emeritus Board member is illustrative, “Learning of this honor triggered an emotional response. You can’t imagine how important this honor is to me. I am so proud and happy that the work and time donated has made a long-term difference to our greater community. I can’t believe how lucky I have been to be associated with the Foundation for all these years. Thank you, thank you, thank you!”
Donald Kinney started his Board term in the 2016-2017 fiscal year serving as Board Treasurer, which included all daily accounting for the foundation. He performed this full role as a volunteer, handling all the accounting functions until July 1, 2018 when the foundation hired a part-time accountant. Donald then shepherded the new accountant, still retaining the tasks of reviewing monthly reports and accounts and making all the fund transfers between accounts. He helped guide the selection of the accounting software, took the time to learn the system, and monitored entries. Donald fielded all questions from staff, guiding sound solutions. He also prepared the Annual 990 report to the IRS – an incredible amount of work, until 2020.

In addition to all of this pro bono work, Donald generously contributed financially every year. The responsibility and time commitment since the start of his two 3-year terms as a board member is highly uncommon today and noteworthy. His care of the critical function of financial stewardship not only gave donors confidence in the management of their funds, it led the foundation to enjoy outstanding results in annual audits. Donald’s technical knowledge and skills combined with uncommon service and commitment throughout a formative period of financial system development will forever be appreciated and celebrated through this leadership honor.
