

Robyn Sealander

AIA, NCARB, PRINCIPAL

For more than 25 years, Robyn has been connecting with clients to comprehend the essential nature of their issues. Her attention to detail and ability to listen and understand allow her to create solutions for commercial, educational, and institutional users. Robyn brings her passion for thoughtful design to managing architecture and interiors projects throughout Maine.

Robyn's diverse background includes teaching undergraduate design studios at Tulane University's School of Architecture, and working for nine years in the San Francisco Bay Area on corporate, municipal and institutional projects.

Service to her community is one of Robyn's core values. She is active in civic and leadership organizations in Maine, including:

- George Stevens Academy Trustee
- Girl Scouts of Maine Service Unit Treasurer
- Downeast Family YMCA board member
- Board chair, Brooklin Youth Corps
