

Optimus Healthcare Services Announces FINRA Approval for Corporate Name Change
Industry Veteran Cliff Saffron named Chief Financial Officer and General Counsel

New York, NY/ ACCESSWIRE -- June 3, 2021 – Optimus Healthcare Services, Inc. (OTC: HOPS) announced today that it received approval notification from the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) for a corporate name change. The entity formerly known as “Between Dandelions” will begin doing business as of June 3, 2021, as Optimus Healthcare Services, Inc. The symbol for Optimus Healthcare Services will remain as “HOPS.”

“The FINRA approval is an important element of our growth strategy which is focused on leveraging the synergies within Optimus to enhance shareholder value,” said Marc Wiener, Optimus Healthcare Services CEO. “In addition to the symbolism of the name change to accurately reflect the emphasis of our platform, additional efforts are focused on the continued evaluation of potential acquisitions of healthcare-related businesses. Other management activities include the up-listing of Optimus to a more senior financial platform, when appropriate, and the continued expansion of our Board and Management with key thought and business leaders.”

In addition, Kenneth Orr, Executive Chair of Optimus Healthcare Services, announced that long-time legal counsel and industry executive Cliff Saffron has joined the company to serve as the Chief Financial Officer and General Counsel. Mr. Saffron has assumed responsibilities related to aligning corporate growth and the long-term strategic vision for Optimus Healthcare Services.

About Optimus
