Version: 2 March 2023

In connection with customizing and improving our website content, Autoinnovation ApS – Tjekvik ("Tjekvik") stores and accesses cookies on your terminal equipment in connection with your use of www.tjekvik.com

This cookie policy describes Tjekvik's storage and use of cookies. Tjekvik's use of cookies may involve the processing of personal data, and we, therefore, recommend that you also read our privacy policy for website visitors, which describes our processing of personal data and your rights here. You can find it on our website.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small electronic data files, which are stored and can be accessed in your electronic terminal equipment in connection with your use of the internet. Your terminal equipment could, for instance, be your computer, tablet, or smartphone, depending on what equipment you use for online browsing. Cookies help make your online browsing better, easier, and more targeted towards you. At the same time, the storage of cookies allows Tjekvik to analyse traffic and give insights into how the website is used and what content is of high interest so that we can develop the website and our business.

Cookies may be used by Tjekvik and by our cookie management supplier and partner, Hubspot.

Cookies cannot identify you directly as an individual user, but rather the electronic terminal equipment you have used for browsing. Further, cookies are passive files and cannot be used to spread viruses, malware, or similar malicious programmes in your terminal equipment.

Some cookies are used to remember your specific movements across the internet. When your movements are linked to online identifiers that can be traced back to you, it allows our website to remember you, your preferences and settings. Thus, personal data will be processed. You can read more about the processing of personal data in our website visitor privacy policy. You can find the link to this policy above.

Types of cookies

Tjekvik stores and accesses two different types of cookies when you use our website:

1. Session cookies: Session cookies are temporarily stored cookies, which are deleted as soon as you close your web browser (the session)
2. Permanent cookies: Permanent cookies are permanently stored cookies, which are stored on your terminal equipment until they are deleted again or after a certain period. See more under “Deleting and blocking cookies”. Permanent cookies are renewed every time you visit our website.

Cookies on our website are stored as long as necessary and the storage period in general depends on the type of cookie (session vs. permanent cookies).

Third-party cookies

Tjekvik has a cookie management supplier and partner, which stores and has access to cookies in your terminal equipment in connection with your use of our website and your subsequent online activities. Such cookies are called third-party cookies and they can be either session cookies or permanent cookies.

Purpose of storing cookies

Generally, Tjekvik and our cookie management supplier and partner use cookies in order to make your online browsing better and more efficient.

More specifically, Tjekvik and the above-mentioned partner use cookies, including third-party cookies, for the following purposes:

- Optimising the performance of the website and related applications
