

Position Description

HEOR/RWE Specialist

Evio Overview

Evio is a Denver-based pharmacy solutions startup that works with health plans to transform the medication experience for everyone: patients, providers, and the system at large.

In 2019, a group of five amazing health plans that in total serve more than 20 million members recognized that despite the miracles that medications can deliver every day, the way medications get to patients is in need of reform—rapidly rising costs and inefficient system complexities have proven detrimental to patients and the industry alike. Each company made a significant investment to establish Evio as the independent entity to lead this transformation.

Evio will elevate the people who use medications to be the focus of all innovation, and apply real world evidence to build technology, solutions and insights. We will ensure that every patient receives the right medication for their unique situation, from the beginning, in a simple and affordable way. Achieving the quadruple aim of improved experiences and health outcomes for people, reduced costs, and clinician fulfillment is our goal. Clinical, evidence-driven drug decision making will lead everything Evio does.

Initially, Evio will offer services to each of the five investor health plans to complement other innovative pharmacy services the health plans offer. Upon launch, and on the path to broader transformation, Evio's first priorities include:

- Using evidence and data from real patient experiences to ensure the right medication gets to every patient, where, when and how they need it.
- Developing new, and enhancing existing, partnerships that leverage the innovation happening in the pharmacy and broader healthcare and analytics sectors today—to improve affordability, outcomes, and experience for patients.
- Continuing the evolution toward value-based care and enhancing outcomes-based contracting in the pharmacy space, especially on high-cost drugs.

HEOR/RWE Specialist Role

We are looking for a talented individual to join our team as a Health Economics and Outcomes Research (HEOR)/Real World Evidence (RWE) Specialist to support the creation and ongoing development of Evio's products and services designed to transform the patient and provider experience.

Job Specifics

The HEOR/RWE Specialist will support strategic RWE products through the generation and development of observational and real-world evidence using large health care administrative databases, electronic medical records, and registries. This individual will utilize web-based analytics tools and other programming languages to efficiently work with very large real-world databases, to identify and discover target patient populations, disease prevalence and risk factors, medication utilization, treatment patterns and disease progression, and other exploratory questions. In this role, the ideal candidate will work closely within cross-functional teams to execute and deliver on projects in an accurate, effective, and timely manner. In collaboration with these teams, you will design and execute real-world evidence (RWE) projects. In doing so, you will –

- Provide strong subject matter expertise on HEOR/RWD analytic activities by setting clear standards and expectations for the dissemination of relevant, accurate and compelling HEOR data.
- Develop best practices in HEOR including research methodologies, study design, endpoints that provide scientifically sound protocols, policies, tools, and outcomes impact.
- Leverage scientific and real-world data to develop, craft, and recommend optimal study research and design that will inform strategic decision making about the best use of medication and/or applicable technologies.
- Prepare initial strategies for RWE product research, obtain insight from others to address gaps or enhance research.

The skills and experience you bring to this role include:

- Doctoral Degree (PhD, PharmD, or MD) in related field and experience conducting HEOR Research.
- 5+ years of relevant industry experience in analyzing real-world health claims data.
- 3+ years of relevant experience working for pharma company, academic research organizations, health plan. (Experience with value-based or outcomes-based contracting, a plus).
- In depth knowledge of HEOR methodologies, economic data analyses, statistical analysis, and real-world outcomes research.
- Practical skills and experience in product innovation ideas and demonstrated results executing on innovative ideas.
- Strong computational skills and experience with web-based analytics tools and other programming languages (e.g., SQL, Python).
- Record of successful implementation of novel methodologies or innovation within the realm of health economics and outcomes research for medication treatment.
- In-depth knowledge of (US) healthcare systems including managed care organizations, IDM's, Medicare, and Medicaid; similar experience in national HTA agencies (ICER, HAS, GBA, NICE, etc.).

Every Evio teammate is critical to our culture and success. For all candidates, across roles and levels, you demonstrate that:

- You have a high degree alignment with Evio's mission and values.
- You put the patient first, leading with clinical, and doing something transformational for US healthcare is in your DNA.
- You are an energy producer, with a proven ability to "get stuff done" (GSD) and support others.
- You are a curious, creative and overall strong problem solver who is a go-to subject matter expert where you need to be.
- You are a resilient challenger of the status quo that drives improvements on every topic from creating team rhythms and culture to the next clinical strategy for the team to pursue.
- You thrive in ambiguity and are comfortable rolling up your sleeves on business strategy, team, execution and other elements that will certainly change as the team fails fast, learns and pivots.
- You are a proven leader who inspires confidence and establishes processes and team structures that are conducive to teammate and company growth.
- You are emotionally intelligent and you do well collaborating with multiple parts of the business and functioning well with a variety of styles.
