Zaha Hadid Architects

Based in London for 40 years, ZHA has redefined architecture for the 21st century with a repertoire of projects that have captured imaginations across the globe. Enticingly contextual, each project combines an unwavering optimism for the future with concepts of connectivity and integration.

Collaborating with visionary clients, communities and industry experts on more than 60 on-going projects in 28 countries, ZHA's hugely talented and dedicated teams of over 400 experienced professionals work with passion and commitment to honour Zaha Hadid's legacy and deliver transformational projects across the globe.

Zaha Hadid Architects' recently completed projects include:

- 2016 the Mathematics Gallery at London's Science Museum, Port House in Antwerp, Salerno Maritime Terminal;
- 2015 Messner Mountain Museum Coronas, Oxford University's Middle East Centre;
- 2014 Sky SOHO in Shanghai, Innovation Tower at Hong Kong Polytechnic University, Dongdaemun Design Plaza in Seoul;
- 2013 Heydar Aliyev Centre in Baku, Serpentine Sackler Gallery in London, Library & Learning Centre in Vienna;
- 2012 Eli & Edythe Broad Art Museum in Michigan, Galaxy SOHO in Beijing, Pierresvives Library and Archive in Montpellier;
- 2011 CMA CGM Head Office Tower in Marseille, London Aquatics Centre, Riverside Museum in Glasgow,
- 2010 Guangzhou Opera House, Sheikh Zayed Bridge in Abu Dhabi and MAXXI Museum in Rome.

ZHA is currently working on a range of projects worldwide including the new Beijing Airport Terminal Building in Daxing, China, the Sleuk Rith Institute in Phnom Penh, Cambodia and 520 West 28th Street in New York. Zaha Hadid Architects' portfolio also includes cultural, corporate, academic, sporting and infrastructure projects across Asia, the Middle East, Europe and the Americas, in addition to national institutions such as the Central Bank of Iraq and the Grand Theatre de Rabat.

"We were hugely impressed by the ideas and vision of the late Dame Zaha Hadid and Patrik Schumacher when they first presented their design for the new mathematics gallery over two years ago. I am sure that this gallery will provide inspiration for our millions of visitors for many years to come."

Ian Blatchford, Director of the Science Museum Group
