

SENIOR DESIGNER

ELLIOT JAMES

INTERIORS

SENIOR DESIGNER

ABOUT US

Elliot James Interiors is an award-winning global interior design practice with studios in Singapore and the United Kingdom, specialising in luxury interiors for residential and commercial projects.

We are looking for a talented and ambitious Senior Designer to join our Singapore studio and take a leading role in developing and shaping the direction and culture of the company as we continue to grow.

Reporting to the Creative Director, the role will involve working on all stages of our major projects and the responsibility to lead and coordinate a collaborative design team to deliver exceptional work.

On offer is the opportunity to progress and develop your career and become an integral part of our diverse team, with autonomy and scope to create and design with empowering leadership.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Develop and execute the creative direction for luxury projects working with the Creative Director through every stage of the design process in response to the client brief
- Client presentations, engagement and communication - being the main point of contact on key projects you lead.
- Driving the development of each conceptual design, coordinating and working with the design team to manage and deliver each project within budget and programme
- Design bespoke and customised furniture, joinery and lighting when necessary.
- Overseeing the preparation of all presentation materials and detailed project technical documentation
- Supporting and mentoring members of the design team to increase their experience and capabilities and help them pursue their professional goals.

ABOUT YOU

As a Senior Interior Designer, you will have proven experience of successfully leading a design team and projects from concept to completion, with a portfolio of high-quality interior projects across both residential and commercial sectors.

You are a talented all-round designer with strong technical knowledge with a leaning towards interior architecture rather than FF&E, and meticulous attention to detail.

You are able to balance multiple project commitments, sectors and deadlines, will be comfortable working both independently and within teams, and are confident, experienced and professional with clients, consultants and external partners.

You continually seek professional development, and strive to lead by example with the enthusiasm and personality to mentor and develop junior members of the team. Above all you are a positive team player, passionate about luxury interior design and ambitious about your career.

- 7-10+ years proven experience in residential and commercial interior design work with accompanying portfolio
- Architecture, interior architecture, or interior design degree
- Excellent communication skills, fluent written and spoken English.
- The initiative and judgement to organise and prioritise tasks whilst working on multiple projects simultaneously
- Confidence working in a client-facing role where the importance of professionalism, courtesy and acumen is paramount to deliver an exceptional customer experience
- Detailed knowledge and proficiency in AutoCAD, Revit, InDesign, Sketchup, Photoshop, Google Suite

If you would like to be considered for the position then please submit your resume and portfolio.
