Membership in GPSA is open to any company, individual, or partnership which provides services or supplies for the midstream energy industry. GPSA memberships are corporate, so once a company joins, any employee of that company may take advantage of the membership benefits.

Membership classification is determined by each company's total energy related employee count.

Membership Classification	Annual Dues
S1: companies with more than 250 energy employees	$3,250
S2: companies with 25 to 250 energy employees	$1,700
S3: companies with less than 25 energy employees	$650

The undersigned company hereby applies for membership in the GPSA and agrees to pay the dues shown above. Membership privileges are given to all member company employees.
