Improve Operational Efficiencies with Real-Time Alerts

Stop wasting time monitoring reports and start addressing issues the moment they arise. With Zenoti Alerts, you'll get informed of issues that require your attention in real time, meaning you can work faster and smarter on your day-to-day operations.
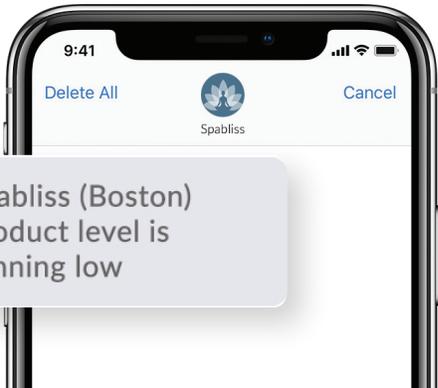

Protection against unfollowed SOPs

A lot can go wrong when your SOPs aren't being followed. Zenoti Alerts allows you to verify every key task on your business's to do list, including opening and end-of-day procedures.
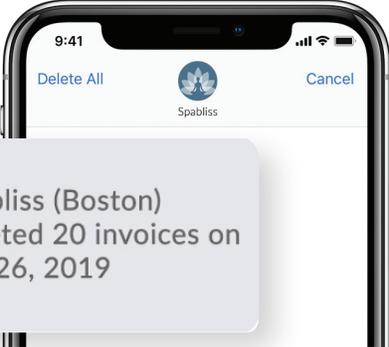

Smooth stock management

Take the guesswork out of managing your stock. Zenoti will send an alert when your inventory is low and provide oversight on proper entry of your bill of materials so you always know exactly where your stock stands.

Reliable fraud monitoring

Too many deleted appointments could mean an error in your operations — but it could also mean fraud. With fraud monitoring alerts, spend less time wondering and more time finding solutions.

Alerts that work harder so you don't have to

Zenoti Connect is your partner in enhanced client communications. Reduce your no-show rate and create better customer relationships, all while saving money on the back end.

Text Message or Email Alerts

Receive your alerts via text message, email, or both.

Multiple Recipients

Set up your alerts to go out to multiple recipients, by name or by job role.
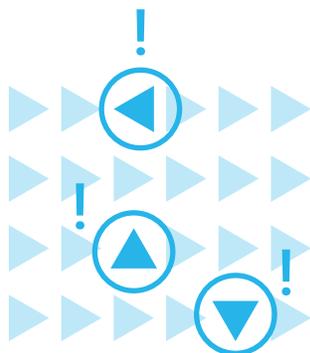

Aggregated Information

Responsible for multiple locations? Organizational level alerts aggregate data from multiple centers so you can track each location.

Center Override

Define benchmark triggers for each alert, and allow individual centers to override these settings if necessary.

Be in the know, even when you're not there

At Zenoti, we believe in a "manage by exception" approach. Our alerts efficiently monitor your business and guide your attention to issues as they arise. Solve problems at their earliest stage, stop wasting time, and focus your resources where they really count.

Bring on the power of text for happier, more engaged customers — all with one easy-to-use platform.
