Main Street White Paper

At Main Street, countless discussions have been had about the most important value we can offer our holders. The answer we've come to time and time again has been "transparency". We believe the clearest way to walk holders and interested buyers through the Main Street project is with a brief look into what Main Street is, followed by an in-depth look at our tokenomics and an explanation to the most valuable part of our ecosystem, you, for how we plan to continue a relationship built on honesty and the decision making process for how Main Street operates in the future.

The Brief

Main Street ($MAINST) is a deflationary token offered on the Binance Smart Chain, referred to as the BSC. The goal of Main Street is to answer the question so often asked, "Why should we hold?" Main Street provides its holders the opportunity to find new tokens in our Neighborhood and Alley, featuring tokens ranging from high use case, to newly listed and unvetted. Combined with the addition of our Main Street shops which will provide entertainment and games, we have created a hub that brings reason and fun to trading cryptocurrency. We created Main Street to thrive as an umbrella community that brings valuable trading options and exciting activities to our holders.

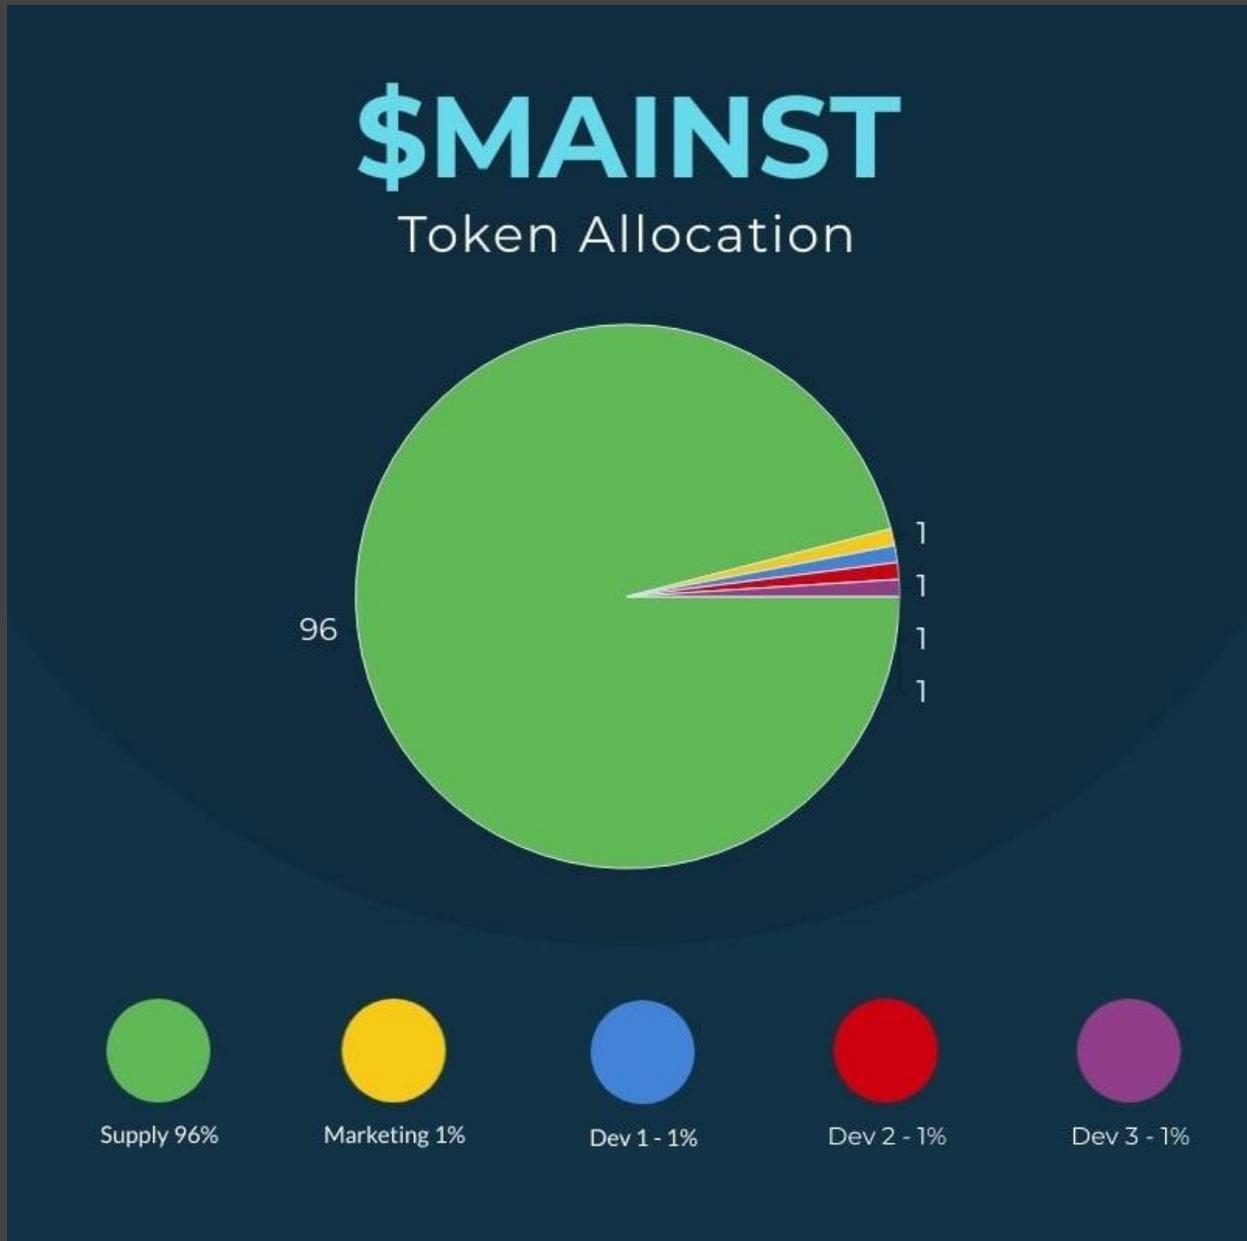

Tokenomics

Main Street initially launched with 500 Trillion (500,000, 000, 000, 000) tokens, with 96% of its tokens sent to DXSale. The Main Street Team consists of three developers, all who received a wallet locked for one year with DXsale containing 1% of the total tokens each.

The Main Street Team has issued a 10% tax, to be allotted the following ways: 5% of the tax will be burned forever, increasing the value of $MAINST with every buy and sell. 3% of the tax is redistributed to Main Street holders, when a whale dumps, you reap the rewards. The final 2% tax will be sent to the Marketing Wallet, of which the use case is listed in detail below.

The Marketing Wallet was originally funded with 1% of the original launch supply (5 trillion $MAINST Tokens), and will continue to be funded through its share (2%) of the 10% deflationary tax. It will remain unlocked to help provide Main Street with adequate funding for development/marketing and expenses related to the progression of the $MAINST token. Excess tokens in this wallet will be used for returning value to holders through lotteries and giveaways. Absolutely no tokens will be removed from this wallet without a 2/3 vote of the active Main Street Developers. There will be a breakdown of every purchase made from the Marketing Wallet weekly on the Main Street Blog. You can visit the Main Street Blog here.

Transparency

A common theme when issues arise in a token community appears to be lack of transparency between developers and holders. Without transparency, holders become anxious and begin to question their investment. Main Street is dedicated to giving its holders and partners the clearest information we have available with regard to marketing purchases, partnership dealings, community projects, and the ebbs and flows that are inevitable in crypto. We would like to offer you a look at how Main Street plans to stand by its holders by cultivating a relationship built on trust and high-level communication. We currently are dedicated to offering the following to our holders, and will continue to add to our transparency plan as new features are added to the token.

- Friday releases of the $MAINST Marketing Minute: a weekly rundown of all purchases and withdrawals from the Main Street Marketing Wallet and how they will impact our token, to be released on the Main Street Medium blog.
- Liquidity Pool locked for 2 months. Why 2 months instead of 5 years, or forever? With an LP lock of 2 months we will be able to move the LP if necessary for other exchanges, and relock. Also, during the creation phase of Main Street we witnessed the issues surrounding the PancakeSwap V1 to V2 transfer. Internally, we discussed how to navigate an issue like that should it arise in the future. The Main Street team has decided to lock the Liquidity Pool for 2 months, should an issue arise again with PancakeSwap we can transfer to the new liquidity address based on PanckeSwap's updates without causing excessive delays by locking for a much longer time period.
- An overview of all available wallets in the Main Street token contract:

Developer Wallets x3, locked for 1 year with DXSale

Marketing Wallet, unlocked: The purchases made from this wallet will be available for review from holders on Fridays at the Main Street Medium Blog. We believe it is incredibly important to communicate all purchases made with an unlocked wallet, and are happy to keep our holders updated.

Dead/Burn Wallet, locked forever

- Developer Communication Commitment: We, the developers of Main Street, have put forth an incredible amount of time and effort to create a product worth buying and staying for. We will make it a high priority issue to stay engaged with our community and welcome feedback, questions, and concerns. We can't wait to begin interacting with our holders and forming long-lasting relationships with token owners as partners.
