When I first met Derrial, I knew that he was a special person that I needed to bring on board for our CBS show. He is one of those rare talents that has it all...wit, smarts good looks, relatability, amazing style and unique opinions on a variety of topics. He just has the overall “It” factor and brings a knowledge that stands out among other TV Host, experts and personalities. It is hard to find all these qualities in a person and yet he does not take himself too seriously. I have worked with Derrial now on several shows that I have Executive Produced and each time I am blown away by his talent. He always delivers and he continues to win the hearts of our viewers, with his unique viewpoints, contagious smile and easy going conversations. He knows no strangers and Derrial truly is a star with no limits”
