We are looking for a new colleague to join our small, dedicated team in the role of

Consultant or Senior consultant (80-100%)

Who are we? SAFOSO AG (www.safoso.com) is a private consultancy company based in Liebefeld (Switzerland) assessing, managing and educating on risks related to livestock health and animal-derived foods. We have an international clientele across the public and private sector for whom we work at the interface of science, policy and practical application. Examples of our projects include consultancy and capacity development for veterinary and food safety authorities, strategic support for veterinary companies and risk assessments and training for livestock sector organizations.

What will you be doing? In line with your experience, you will lead and implement projects for a wide client portfolio and contribute to the supervision of more junior colleagues. Project related activities may include client communication, report writing, preparation and delivery of presentations and trainings, providing guidance to national consultants in international projects, and data gathering and analysis. You will also be involved actively in project acquisition, including communication with prospective clients and development of project proposals.

Who are you? You are an open, enthusiastic and communicative person who is capable of working independently as well as in a team. You have an entrepreneurial flair and possess a solution- and client-oriented attitude. You can grasp new information quickly and place it into its larger context. You are interested in exploring and learning the application of new tools in the context of consultancy projects, including AI-related tools. You are willing to travel internationally. Due to Swiss immigration legislation, we can only consider candidates holding Swiss, EU or EFTA citizenship.

Which skills and expertise do you bring with you? You have a degree in livestock production, animal health economics, veterinary medicine, agronomy, or another related field and at least 5 years working experience. You have a good understanding of herd health management concepts and can communicate complex matters in a clear manner in oral and written form. You have implemented and/or led projects, preferably in an international setting. You have experience with knowledge transfer in an interdisciplinary, multicultural environment. Ideally, you have experience in project acquisition or are highly motivated to learn. You are proficient in English. Working knowledge of German and/or French is desirable.

What’s next? For applications or more information, please reach out to manon.schuppers@safoso.ch. Deadline for applications is 11 August. Expected start date is November 2023 or upon agreement. The post is based in Liebefeld, Switzerland.
