OUR MISSION AND VALUES

Our aim is to make great games to entertain and empower wealth and happiness amongst our community, whilst giving something back to those that need some extra help.

WHAT IS RE-EVOLUTION?

Re-Evolution is an innovative new project comprising of NFTs, a transformational game and a play-to-earn token. We will be providing you with the opportunity to acquire your very own planet, over which you will become the Supreme Ruler that creates and preserves all things, great and small. As you guide your planet through time and evolution, your success as the Supreme Ruler will be determined by the happiness and wellbeing of your loyal – or not so-loyal – species that inhabits your domain. You will decide how your species evolve by creating civilisations and guiding them through the ages as your planet matures and progresses. Will you do a better job than we humans have done on Planet Earth?

WHY RE-EVOLUTION IS UNIQUE

Unlike many projects that are full of empty promises, since the inception of Re-Evolution in 2021, the team has worked tirelessly to map out and plan a realistic project that will be delivered on-time and in accordance with its specification. Read on to discover the benefits of investing in the next-generation phenomenon that is Re-Evolution.

VERIFIED AND TRUSTED TEAM

We are proud that Re-Evolution is APPROVED and has completed the KYC verification process with The Verification Gold Standard™, Assure DeFi™. The Re-Evolution compliance NFT can be viewed: <https://www.assuredefi.io/projects/re-evolution/>

We are committed to holding our leadership accountable for the sake of our investors and we believe this to be a strong positive step for our community. The following team members have completed the verification process:

CEO & Lead Developer
Head of Business & Finance
Head of Marketing

Assure DeFi offers processes that they have pioneered as the industry-leader to provide an accountability path for scammers is ground-breaking, the depth of the verification is world-class and we fully support initiatives such as this to rid the space of bad actors. We're thrilled to have a platform that has allowed our team to gain additional credibility & differentiate Re-Evolution amongst other project leaders who are not as willing to hold themselves accountable.

NFT OVERVIEW

The first NFT launch will be the Planets. You will get one of 5,000 unique planets on the Solana Blockchain and commence your Re-Evolution journey. The different planets will have different attributes, assets and rarities – ready for you to populate with your very own species and develop your creation. Which planet will you get?

Holders of Re-Evolution Planet NFTs will be able to rent out their planet(s) meaning you can earn passive income by allowing other members of the Re-Evolution community to play-to-earn using your planet.

Our second NFT launch will be the Species. You will be able to acquire the ideal species to enable you to develop and evolve life on your planet. There will be 5,000 unique species to choose from, each with their own unique characteristics that will determine how they will survive and thrive within your planet’s ecosystem. But, in addition, each species will have its own temperament, that will determine how you can best rule them to ensure their happiness through the ages.

Planet holders will be eligible for exclusive access to holder-only whitelist offers for the Species.

PASSIVE INCOME

Re-Evolution NFTs provide value for everyone, whether you are a gamer or an investor: Re-Evolution Planet NFT holders will be able to rent their planets to other game players after the Re-Evolution game is launched, enabling Re-Evolution Planet NFT holders to earn passive income for as long as they hold their Re-Evolution Planet NFT.

To rent out your Planet, first you will need to list it on our online marketplace, coming in Q4 2022, select your rental period and then select the rental fees as a percentage of the in-game revenue earned. The revenue will be automatically divided between the NFT owner’s wallet and the renter’s wallet, in accordance with the terms agreed.

NFT APPRECIATION

When Re-Evolution Planets are traded, upon first use in the game by the new owner, the new owner can decide whether they keep the current progress or start again. Your planet NFT will have an appreciating value as you progress in the game, thus raising the floor price of the Re-Evolution Planet NFTs.

GAME OVERVIEW

Alongside our NFT collections, we will release a game built using the Unity Game Engine™.

Access to the transformational play-to-earn game will be exclusively available to 5,000 lucky Re-Evolution Planet NFT holders. The aim of the game is to maintain a strong happiness factor within the population. Players will be able to explore their whole planet and plan their strategy for how they will exercise their duties as Supreme Rulers. Progress that is made in the game will be linked to the Planet NFTs, optimising the potential for the value of the NFTs to increase with in-game progression.

The game will allow players to interact with their planet and species, developing civilisations and cultures. As the Supreme Ruler of your civilisation, the decisions that you make will have consequences, which will, in turn; determine the happiness factor of your subjects. The happier they are, the more Re-Evolution tokens you will earn.

Whilst Re-Evolution game players will need to acquire or rent a Re-Evolution planet to have access to the game, they will not necessarily have to purchase a species because basic species will be included in the game. If players want to acquire unique species with special properties, they may do so by acquiring a Re-Evolution Species NFT.

Planet attributes and rarities help with faster progress in the game. If you keep your species happy by making great strategic decisions, you will be rewarded with Re-Evolution tokens which you can use to progress the evolution of your planet. But beware! If you make the wrong choices, you may cause your civilisation to revolt – or even leave you to create other, competitive communities. Your relationship with new civilisations will prove key in having a future of war or prosperity. Your challenge will be to effectively navigate your way through the consequences of the decisions you make. Will your planet become a sanctuary of bliss – or a war-torn, crumbling domain that you will need to rebuild? It's up to you!

Players will also be able to purchase Re-Evolution tokens to spend in-game on evolving and developing their planet for their community. Buildings, upgrades, and special boosts will be available.

PLAY-TO-EARN GAMEPLAY MECHANICS

Re-Evolution Planet NFT holders will benefit from an initial airdrop of the $REV token to get them started in the game. Holders will be allowed to acquire $REV tokens which can be used to purchase progressively unlocked upgrades in the game. Some upgrades may provide instant direct benefits to revenue, such as a factory. However, these upgrades may also come with long term downsides, such as pollution. Players will need to balance this with upgrades for longer term benefits, such as planting a forest.

Players will be encouraged to respect their planet's environment, so some upgrades will be conditional. For example, in order to build a housing complex, gamers must first have cultivated enough trees. Upgrades will also open the door to new and exciting game features, for example, player-versus-player mechanics enabling species to space-travel to other players' planets.

In the beginning, players will need to get their planet into a habitable state before they can develop civilisations. As a player's civilization grows, their population will have constantly changing needs which must be met to maintain a good level of happiness. If a population becomes too unhappy, they will revolt. If a revolution is not dealt with effectively, it may, for example, end up in a breakaway state. The Supreme Ruler will then have the opportunity to regain progression by ensuring there is a good relationship between the original and the breakaway civilizations, for example, via trade deals and gifts. Maintaining strong and healthy relationships with other civilisations will provide huge benefits to a player's happiness score resulting in increased revenues via the $REV token.

As players progress through the game, earning more $REV tokens, they will improve their earning potential and be encouraged to reinvest their earnings. This will reduce the amount of $REV in circulating supply, driving up the price of the $REV token for the benefit of the holders.

Players will experience natural disasters on their planet, such as volcanic eruptions, hurricanes, droughts and tsunamis, which can not only have the obvious negative impacts, but also have positive impacts, such as more fertile soil following a volcanic eruption. Players will also be rewarded with 'miracles' such as finding more sources of food or bumper harvests.

As communities are built, Supreme Rulers will be challenged by a range of political events, such as wars, revolutions, breakaway nations and crime. They will be measured by the happiness factor of their communities — it's a simple equation: the happier the population, the better the progress made in the game and the higher the income potential. Throughout each stage of the game, players will be provided with increased opportunities and incentives to improve their happiness scores and earn more $REV tokens.

DAO GOVERNANCE TOKEN

Re-Evolution's governance token named 'Meridio' (taken from the Greek word meaning 'share') will be released alongside the Re-Evolution play-to-earn game. This means that all 5,000 Planet NFT holders will be members of the Re-Evolution Cosmic Parliament, acquiring voting rights for the total management of this innovative project through playing the Re-Evolution game.

The DAO will be able to vote on all aspects of the Re-Evolution project, including, for example, token reward rates, and the level of discounts granted to holders with each new collection, etc. There will be no unvetted sale of the Meridio governance token.

The Re-Evolution ethos is all about sharing — not only the financial gains of the project, but also the responsibilities. We believe that our loyal community's opinion must be considered in respect of how we develop the Re-Evolution mission moving forward.

$RE-EVOLUTION TOKEN

The Re-Evolution token is the in-game currency for the Re-Evolution game. You will earn tokens by making decisions that increase the happiness rating of your species. The Re-Evolution token will also have a value that is external to the game, because players will need to hold it to progress in the Re-Evolution game. As more gamers join our community and become engrossed in the evolution of their planets and species, non-gamers that hold the Re-Evolution token will be able to earn passively from the appreciation in its value driven by increasing demand.

CHARITY

Re-Evolution is a project that's designed to give back. 10% of all royalties will be donated to charities that help our planet and give back to humanity and our own planet. Our community will decide which charities to support. This will be determined by monthly polls with our community, which will be run in our Discord group. When we meet specified trading targets, we will run giveaways for our community to reward the for generating income for great causes.

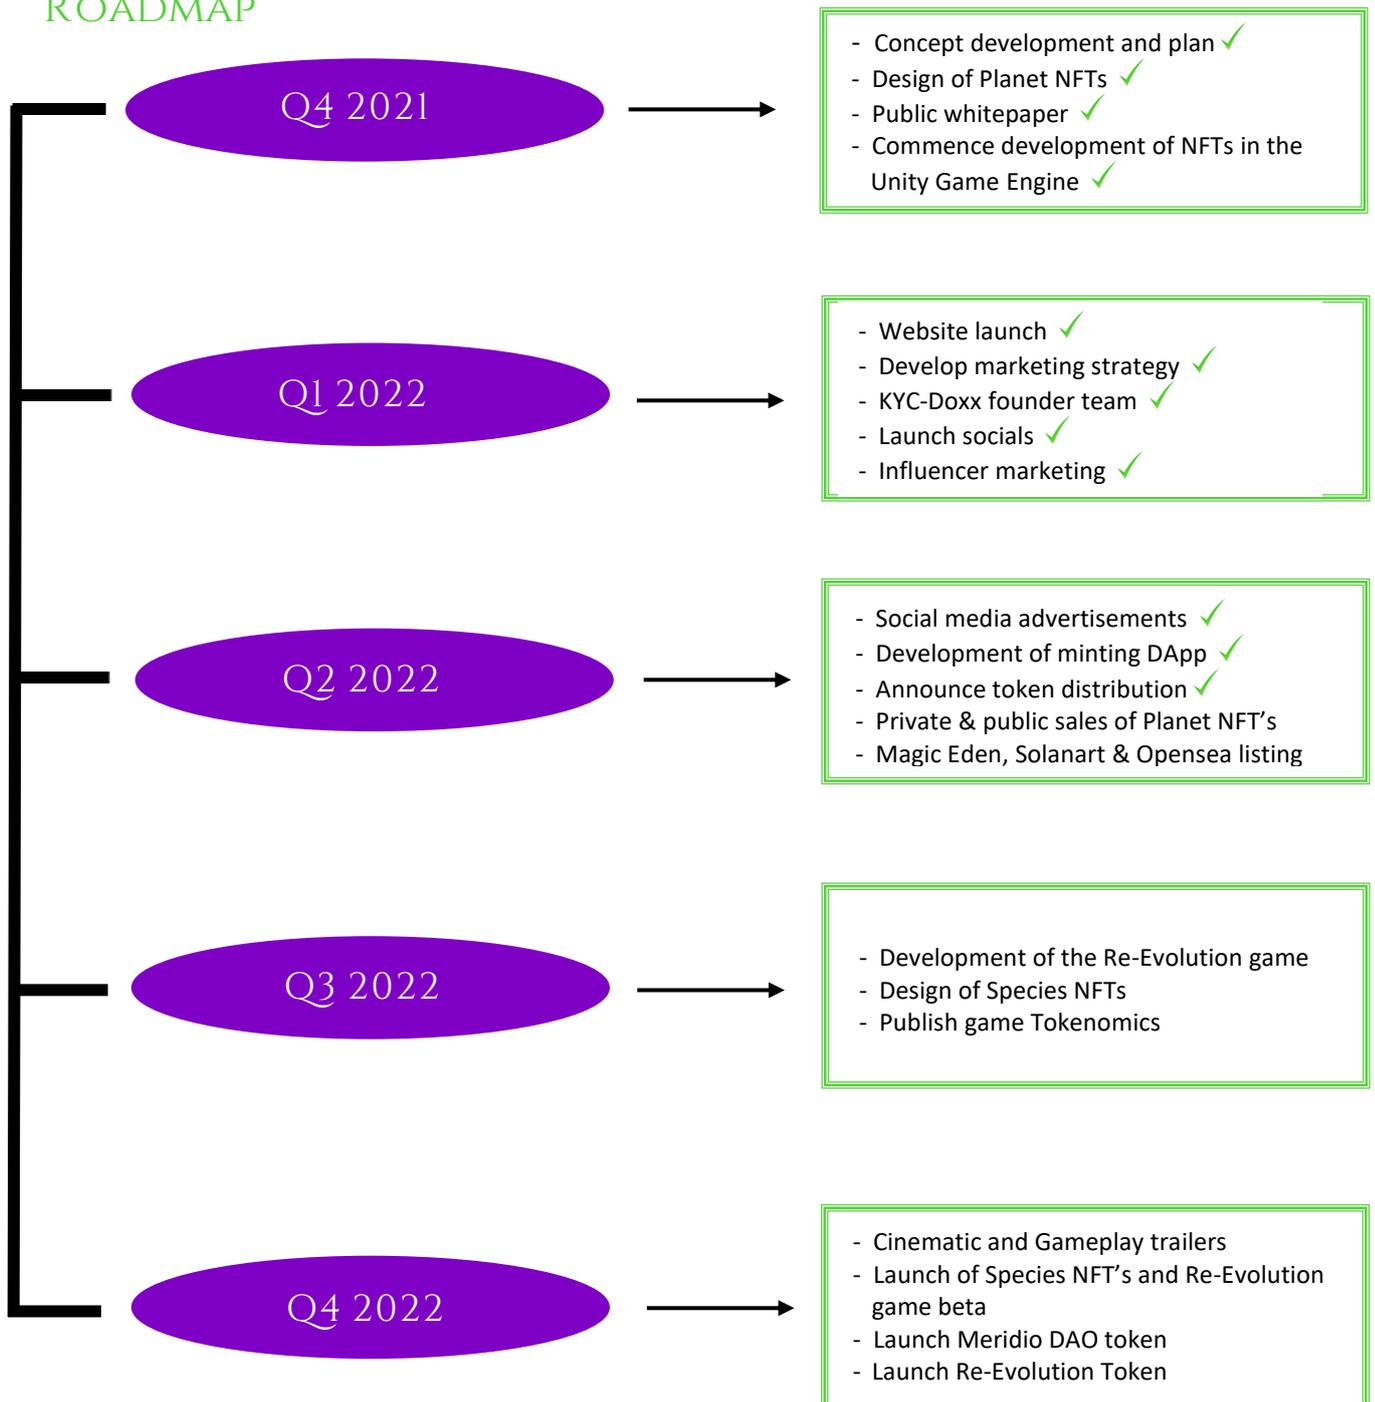

HOW TO INVEST IN RE-EVOLUTION

Re-Evolution have implemented the ability to use a range of the popular Solana wallet providers, including Phantom, Solflare, Slope and Sollet.

For the Public sale (not Presale) in addition to the above it is also possible to purchase Re-Evolution Planet NFT's with Debit and Credit cards. This provides the best of both worlds: access to the transformational play-to-earn (P2E) game without the risks of the volatile crypto markets. Re-Evolution's mint site has a "Buy with credit card" option via Crossmint which will take you through your payment using any of the supported credit or debit card types. NFT's will be minted into your Crossmint wallet, which you can then transfer to any other wallet that you own. The 'Buy with credit card' option is not, regrettably, available for the presale (whitelist).
