

Increased trade

Greater living standards

Improved technology for some Infrastructure development can lead to pollution and the destruction of habitats

Products are transported further than ever

Greater environmental awareness and a push for sustainable development

Increased fuel consumption and greenhouse gas emissions

