

The goal is for everyone to have affordable access to enough energy.

Energy needs would ideally be met without negatively impacting the planet.

Energy sufficiency looks at what we already own and how we already live.

Consider dimensional sufficiency, sufficiency of use, collaborative sufficiency.

‘Sufficiency is based on reducing the demand for energy.’
(Engie)