

Join Space Team Aachen

ad astra ex aachen

Graphic Designer

Organisation & Marketing (O&M)

About Space Team Aachen Our requirements

Space Team Aachen is the association for aerospace enthusiasts from FH and RWTH Aachen. Together we bring space technology to Aachen. For this we have various projects such as annual bucket competition, the IMFEX project and other exciting projects.

For this purpose we cooperate with institutes of the RWTH, FH and the aerospace industry, as well as well-known aerospace companies.

- Student at RWTH or FH Aachen
- Creative and communicative
- Skills in photo/video creation
- Skills in Adobe Photoshop, Illustrator or similar
- High motivation
- Ability to take responsibility and work independent
- Fluent in English and German

Your responsibilities

You will work in a highly motivated team and will be able to let your creativity run wild. You will be designing our mission patches, print media e.g. flyer, newsletters and so much more. One part of your job would also be designing our new team wear and creating photo and video content. You think you're up to a professional marketing project and want to prove and develop your skills? Then you're exactly right with us.

What do we offer

- Involvement in exciting projects in an innovative and disruptive industry
- Become part of a fast growing student association
- Interdisciplinary teamwork in a highly motivated team
- Apply your theoretical knowledge in practice
- Getting in contact with potential employers and building your network

Interested?

Send your CV and a motivational letter to application@sta.rwth-aachen.de

