Hey, my name is Kelvin and I'm a Product Designer based in Malaysia who loves to provide user-centric solutions and experiences. My main goal is to join an amazing team and solve problems while leaving a positive impact.

EXPERIENCE

Product Design Associate · ServiceRocket

December 2022 to present

As part of the design team, I am tasked with improving the overall user experience of ServiceRocket's various apps and products. Additionally, I am also assisting the design team in improving our overall processes and creating our own design system.

Product Design · Memorisely
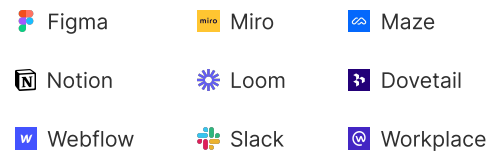

August 2022 to November 2022

Part of an immersive UX/UI Bootcamp, I collaborated with a small team of designers on delivering case studies from real companies by conducting research, synthesising data, ideating, prototyping and testing.

UI/UX Designer · Curlec

May 2021 to November 2022

Part of the product team which planned and delivered various projects, including a subscription management platform and website.
