Getting Here

The Mornington Peninsula is located a short 60min drive from Melbourne CBD. If you are in no rush, the scenic route along Nepean Hwy allows you to follow the curves of the bay, taking in spectacular views whilst inhaling the fresh salty air. If you are after a more direct drive, the M1 and Peninsula link will deliver you right to the heart of the Mornington Peninsula. Another great option is Searoad ferries, a car and passenger ferry that crosses Port Phillip Bay every hour between its terminals in Queenscliff on the Bellarine Peninsula and Sorrento on the Mornington Peninsula.
