

M&A Analyst / Associate (m/f/d)

About TCG

TCG is a corporate finance advisory firm in Munich and Berlin, providing strategic and M&A advice to owners and companies within our expert areas: Tech, Consumer, and Growth. We are the trusted M&A adviser for entrepreneurs, founders, investors, and companies active in the digital economy, on transactions – both on the buy- and the sell-side, delivering exceptional results for our clients. We are seasoned M&A professionals and serial entrepreneurs, who have built successful companies and sold them to large strategic buyers. We combine large investment banking skills from more than 100 deals with a boutique setup.

What you can expect

We firmly believe that for TCG to become the best, we must recruit, train, and develop the best. That is why our ambition is that our employees' learning curve is steeper than anywhere else. Our goal is to develop you – and for you to develop yourself – as quickly as possible, to gain experience, expertise, and seniority on transactions.

How? By working on client projects from day one, taking on client and project responsibility immediately. By working in small teams that comprise some of the best and most experienced investment bankers in Europe. By receiving your own set of tasks and being allowed to – and expected to – try out and derive solutions on your own, along the entire process chain, from putting together the equity story and the business plan, preparing the outreach materials, building the financial model, and guiding buyers through the due diligence. By having seniors whose ambition is to maximize your learning curve. Atop, you will benefit from an attractive compensation package with direct project revenues and an attractive work-life-money balance.

And all of this in an environment that is non-political, diverse, considerate, respectful – and fun.

What we are looking for

We are looking for smart university graduates and young professionals, who are as fascinated by tech, consumer, and growth transactions as we are – and ideally possess prior experience herein. Professionals who are ambitious, motivated, team-oriented, respectful, can handle pressure, think analytically, problem-solve in a structured way and – maybe most importantly – want to work with, learn from, and ultimately become, one of the best.

Business proficiency in English and German is a requirement as we serve clients in both languages.

If this is something that interests you, we are looking forward to your application over LinkedIn or to career@tcg-cf.com, comprising an introduction of yourself, your CV, and all supporting documents such as letters of recommendation and your certificates.

For any questions you can contact Ms. Judit Laczkó at jlaczko@tcg-cf.com.

Looking forward to hearing from you.
