

Tredway Welcomes Chris De La Rosa in the role of Acquisitions Analyst

New York, NY (December 1, 2022)— Tredway, a triple-bottom line real estate development firm that invests in, acquires, and preserves affordable, workforce, and mixed-income housing, today announced the addition of Chris De La Rosa to its team. Chris will take on the role of Acquisitions Analyst where he will focus on sourcing, the initial underwriting of deals, and maintaining and forming relationships with current and future Tredway partners, especially within the public/private arena.

Chris is a proud product of Upper Manhattan’s Washington Heights neighborhood where he was raised by parents who came to the United States from the Dominican Republic. Having grown up around affordable housing, Chris brings a passion for and a unique perspective to attainable housing real estate development.

Chris earned a scholarship to play Division I basketball at the University of Maryland-Baltimore County (UMBC), where he was a two-year captain and two-time MVP. He was also a recipient of the prestigious Student-Athlete Academic Achievement Award. Upon graduation, Chris played basketball professionally for eight years and during that time began investing in real estate.

Chris is an alumnus of the New Heights Youth program where he met Tredway’s founder Will Blodgett, who is on the board. Chris is currently an advisor to New Heights and a consultant to nationally prominent grassroots programs, Division I universities, and NBA franchises.

##

About Tredway

Tredway is a triple bottom line real estate development firm that invests in, acquires, and preserves affordable, workforce, and mixed-income housing. Driven by the conviction that safe, high-quality, and accessible housing is the single greatest determinant of equity and upward socioeconomic mobility in America today, Tredway combines strong relationships, industry know-how, and fluency in public-private partnerships to ensure successful outcomes for all stakeholders.

To learn about the advantages of partnering with Tredway, visit: www.tredway.com