The Employer Advisory Board (EAB) is a community of employers, community organizations, and leaders who support FUTURO's mission to provide professional development opportunities for our students, members, and alumni. The EAB also affords employers the chance to recruit in a way that is both targeted and culturally relevant. With over 80% of our members identifying as Hispanic or Latino, Employers have an opportunity to recruit diverse talent who have been actively engaged and working towards their professional development and leadership skills through our FUTURO Select 100 Program.

FUTURO strongly emphasizes building connections and expanding networks through our Employer Advisory Board, where businesses and organizations have a direct pipeline to hire diverse, ambitious, determined, passionate young graduates who are eager to begin their professional careers. Our students who attend our leadership program have been vetted and are the best candidates for the job and our Board knows it!

EAB Members meet on a quarterly bases and can interact with other EAB members to network and build a stronger community of equity driven organizations and businesses. FUTURO students, members, and alumni count on our Employer Advisory Board and sponsors for support. Our motto of “LEAD.SERVE.CONNECT” highlights our commitment to creating strong community relationships. FUTURO accomplishes this by providing education, leadership opportunities, mentorship programming, and forging vital connections with community partners to ensure our students have strong networks to depend on after graduation. FUTURO is based on the Latino principle of “familia,” or family, and we are asking you to be a part of our “familia.”
