Community of contributors
CREATION OF A ROBUST & RELEVANT ASSESSMENT

To reach our definition of sustainability knowledge, one that would inform what the assessment covers, we engaged with our community. Firstly, the Research & Development (R&D) Committee is a permanent body in the Sulitest governance, and it is responsible for deciding on product development, priorities, relevance, robustness and alignment with Sulitest’s mission. The committee also decides on the implementation of the R&D strategy, academic and scientific partners.

To develop TASK™, from January to October 2022, we assembled a TASK™ Force of academics and sustainability professionals, who contributed massively with their research and experience.
CREATION OF A ROBUST & RELEVANT ASSESSMENT

Moreover, in March 2022, we brought together a committee of diverse stakeholders, the “Fellows”, formed by members of student networks, academic networks, corporate networks, NGOs, public institutions and universities, so we could be in tune with their views. This enabled us make choices that positioned our tools and actions within the field of sustainability, and education for sustainability, leading us to our own model of sustainability knowledge. During the year, we continued to have one-to-one conversations with many of these contributors.

ENGAGING THE COMMUNITY IN A BETA TRIAL

In October 2022, with the massive support of student associations and relevant bodies, TASK™ was piloted by a total of 1,400 participants worldwide. This was a great opportunity for the Sulitest team to connect first-hand with our community, and understand their hopes and expectations!
