With our fillable brackets, you can customize formats and layouts to suit your needs. A 12-team bracket requires a different approach than larger tournaments with even numbers of teams. To ensure a smooth flow, top seeds will have first-round byes, while lower-seeded teams must win their initial game to advance. Seeding is crucial in a 12-team tournament, with the top four seeds receiving byes and the remaining eight seeds competing in the first round. Use our blank template or pre-seeded PDF version to plan your tournament. Download our printable bracket in various formats, including Word document for customization and Adobe Reader for printing and editing. Keep track of the latest games and standings with our printer-friendly brackets, available in a range of layouts and formats. You can see how a single-elimination tournament is structured by looking at the provided bracket template.
