The carry-on, which was named our top pick for Best Luggage For International Travel after multiple tests, is lightweight, easy to roll and well-sized for overhead bins. The set also comes with a large checked bag, complete with an expander zipper that increases packing depth by nearly two inches. Given the quality, you can't beat the price for this pair, which is one of the best-selling luggage sets on Amazon for good reason. The 2024 Forbes Vetted Best Product Awards are here: Explore our 150 top-recommended items across categories after extensive research and testing. Included: 3 pieces | Type: Softside | Dimensions: 21 x 14 x 7.5 inches (Small); 25 x 18 x 8.5 inches (Medium); 29 x 20 x 9.5 inches (Large) | Warranty: 10-year limited warrantyIf you're an infrequent traveler (or someone who'd rather replace worn-out luggage every couple of years), you don't have to shell out on an expensive luggage set—this softside trio from American Tourister comes at an incredibly reasonable price. It offers the baseline conveniences you'd expect from a quality luggage set, including multi-direction spinner wheels, padded top and side handles and mesh interior pockets. While this set doesn't include any additional features like a TSA-approved lock or designated laptop compartment, it's a great, budget-friendly option that gets high marks from customers—it currently has hundreds of positive reviews on Amazon. Included: 2 or 3 pieces | Type: Hardside | Dimensions: 22.7 x 14.7 x 9.6 inches (The Bigger Carry-On), 26 x 18.5 x 11 inches (The Medium), 29 x 20.5 x 12.5 inches (The Large) | Warranty: Limited lifetime warrantyIf, like many, you're a fan of the popular luggage brand Away, its luggage sets are a great choice for stocking up on multiple suitcases at a lower price. The brand allows you to select the specific sizes you need in a wide variety of eye-popping colors, and you can also choose between the Classic or Flex versions (the Flex is expandable). We recommend starting with the Bigger Carry-On, then adding in The Medium and/or The Large for a healthy variety of trip lengths. When you purchase a carry-on bag and a checked bag, you'll save $50—add on another checked bag and save $100. Included: 3 pieces | Type: Softside | Dimensions: 21 x 14 x 9 inches (Carry-On), 27 x 18.5 x 11.8 inches (Medium Check In), 30 x 18 x 13.5 inches (Large Check In) | Warranty: Limited lifetime warrantyA beloved brand among pilots and flight attendants, Travelpro is a go-to among frequent travelers for its durable and thoughtfully designed luggage. Its Platinum Elite set is the best option out there for fans of softside luggage, with three sleek and high-quality pieces that are built to last. Designed with leather pleating and chrome zippers, the brand's self-aligning spinner wheels are a stand-out for excellent maneuverability. All three of these suitcases also expand for an extra 2 inches of packing space and feature a tip-resistant design.Included: 2 or 3 pieces | Type: Hardside | Dimensions: 21.5 x 15 x 8.5 inches (Carry-On Roller), 28 x 16 x 11 inches (Check-In Roller), 30.5 x 18.75 x 12 inches (Large Check-In Roller) | Warranty: Limited lifetime warrantyBéis is one of the best expandable luggage options on the market, and its customizable bundle is perfect for fans of the brand's bright and poppy rollers who want to stock up on multiple sizes while also taking advantage of great savings. When you buy any two hardside suitcases, you get a 10% discount, and when you buy three, you save 15%. Along with a forgiving 2 inches of extra expansion, each bag comes with a built-in weight-limit indicator that allows you to gauge if your luggage is over 50 pounds, the standard weight limit for checked bags. Included: 3 pieces and packing cubes | Type: Hardside | Dimensions: 22 x 14 x 9 inches (Carry-On), 26.5 x 18.5 x 10.5 inches (Check-In Medium), 30 x 21 x 11 inches (Check-In Large) | Warranty: Limited lifetime warrantyMonos is another popular travel brand that's known for its versatile and lightweight luggage and travel accessories. Monos products have a simple, sleek design and a nice variety of color options, ranging from soft pastel shades to midnight black. This set comes with three suitcases (a carry-on and checked bags in two sizes) that are all constructed from durable polycarbonate and have a sturdy telescopic handle. The color-coordinated YKK zippers and gaskets add to the sleek design, while the built-in compression pads make it easy to pack larger items like a puffer jacket or thick sweater. What's more: The set comes with six compressible packing cubes in a variety of sizes, so you can pack even more efficiently.Included: 3 pieces | Type: Softside | Dimensions: 21 x 14 x 9 inches (Carry-On), 27 x 18.5 x 11.8 inches (Medium Check In), 30 x 18 x 13.5 inches (Large Check In) | Warranty: Limited lifetime warrantyIf you're planning a long-distance trip or are expecting to do some long-haul travel this year, securing a good trunk set is always a good idea. In our opinion, July makes the best looking lightweight trunks on the market. This two-piece set will have you prepared for both a short-term trip and a longer, extended trip, all while marrying durability, functionality and style. Unlike other trunk luggage, July's trunks don't look or feel bulky. We especially like the glazed polycarbonate shell, which gives both bags a sleek and modern look.Included: 2 pieces | Type: Hardside | Dimensions: 21.5 x 15 x 8.5 inches (Carry-On), 26 x 18.75 x 11 inches (Checked), 30.25 x 19.75 x 12.5 inches (Checked Plus) | Warranty: Lifetime warrantyJuly, one of our Best Luggage selections, offers a great selection of durable and aesthetically pleasing suitcases that are spacious enough to accommodate everyone's belongings if you're traveling as a family. Its Classic Family Set comes with everything you need for a weekend getaway, medium-length vacation or extended trip, complete with a solid trio of the brand's Carry-On, Checked bag and Checked Plus bag, the brand's largest size. Built with sturdy German polycarbonate, July's bags are built to last. Plus, the suitcases' spinner wheels offer a buttery smooth glide—ideal for effortlessly maneuvering baggage with kids in tow. For a set that includes such a solid three-piece foundation, the price tag is actually quite reasonable.Included: 3 pieces | Type: Softside | Dimensions: 23 x 14.3 x 10 inches (Cabin), 28 x 17.8 x 12 inches (Medium), 32.8 x 20 x 13.5 inches (Large) | Warranty: Limited 10-year warrantyThis three-piece set includes bags perfect for every length of trip, with double-spinner wheels and two front pockets that ensure easy access to your personal items. The suitcases expand up to two inches for long-haul trips that might require extra clothing, and there are multiple interior pockets (including a wet pocket) to make packing easier. What sets this luggage collection apart from other options is its lightweight Duratec fabric that's both durable and lightweight. Travelers who have used this bag report that the suitcases are easy to lift and maneuver, and even when fully packed they glide effortlessly through the airport.Included: 2 pieces | Type: Hardside | Dimensions: 22 x 15 x 9 inches (Carry-On Trunk), 28 x 16.5 x 14.5 inches (Checked Trunk) | Warranty: Lifetime warrantyIf you're planning a long-distance trip or are expecting to do some long-haul travel this year, securing a good trunk set is always a good idea. This vintage-inspired set comes with a carry-on and large checked bag—both constructed from resilient polycarbonate, with vegan leather corner protectors for extra padding. In addition to the usual integrated TSA lock, both pieces feature Delsey's patented Securitech zippers, which are up to three times more resistant to impact than a conventional zip. The carry-on is compact enough to fit in most overhead bins, making this a perfect match for those looking for a sturdy set to take around the world.Included: 2 pieces | Type: Hardside | Dimensions: 22.7 x 14.7 x 9.6 inches (Carry-On), 28 x 18.3 x 11 inches (Check-In) | Warranty: Limited 10-year warrantyParavel is known for its stylish luggage and accessories made from upcycled and recycled materials. The Aviator is the first carbon-neutral suitcase—the brand offset emissions from start to finish, including shipping and delivery—and it has a timeless, elegant design that stands out from other options. Although the two suitcases in this set don't expand, the recycled polycarbonate shell is durable and lightweight, and the spacious interior with an integrated compression board makes it easy to pack for long journeys. Other thoughtful details include 360-degree double spinner wheels, a TSA-approved lock to keep your belongings secure, a removable laundry bag and multiple interior pockets. The Forbes Vetted team is dedicated to providing the very best recommendations in our diverse catalog of travel stories, whether we're writing about luggage, travel products, cruises or hotels. This particular story was penned by Forbes Vetted's travel expert and senior travel editor Astrid Taran, who has 7 years of experience writing and editing travel content, as well as extensive experience testing luggage. To guarantee the best product picks and most current prices, this article undergoes routine updates. In its latest update in October 2024, frequent Forbes Vetted contributor Julia Eskins added three more sets: the lightweight Samsonite Freeform Set, a sleek Monos For The Overpacker bundle, and the durable Delsey Chatelet Air 2.0 Set. In addition, all prices and links were checked for accuracy. When selecting the best luggage sets, we considered a number variables such as size, build quality and additional features. We know that different kinds of travel require varying amounts of packing, so we included a range of luggage sets for both short business trips and longer excursions. Price also came into play; we included high-end, splurge-worthy sets in addition to budget-friendly options. Since a luggage set is oftentimes a substantial monetary investment, we ensured that all of our picks are protected by at least a 10-year warranty—and several brands offer protection against manufacturing defects for the entire lifetime of each suitcase. While the softside carry-on, checked bag and personal item may be fairly simple in design, they're still full of practical features that make traveling easier, like plenty of external pockets, interior mesh pockets and compression straps to secure your belongings. The brand's bags aren't as durable as others we've tested in the Lab, so I recommend this set for someone who isn't planning to fly frequently. According to one GH analyst who has used this set for nearly a decade, the softside polyester material is slightly worn with some fraying and scuffs, but the bags are still useable, and the important features, like the telescopic handles and zippers, are in working condition. When we evaluated other suitcases from American Tourister, testers highlighted the smooth and stable wheels, meanwhile online reviewers said they roll nicely, despite only moving forward and backward.Pieces: 3 | Sizes: 21-in. and 25-in. suitcases, 10-in. personal item | Material: Softside polyester | Expandable: No | Returns: Within 30 days, unusedRELATED: The Best Luggage Brands Luggage Sets make it easier to find all of the things that you need without shopping for several individual pieces. If you buy the right one, you should be able to get everything in a single purchase. Luggage sets tend to be available primarily for more entry level luggage, though some higher end pieces can also be purchased in sets. Buying sets can save more money than buying individually because they are usually less expensive together than they would be separately. Sets range from two cases to more than eight cases, and some feature pieces that cannot be purchased alone. The sets that I found that merited the most attention are listed below. A high-quality luggage set can be a game changer for travelers, offering a cohesive, organized solution to packing that simplifies the travel experience. With multiple sizes and bag styles, luggage sets are designed to handle various trips, from quick getaways to extended vacations, ensuring you have everything you need in one coordinated collection. As a chronic overpacker, I find that a luggage set makes my two suitcases look more streamlined and intentional. Plus, my Calpak set's chic marbled exterior helps me easily spot my bags in airport chaos. The suitcases also nest neatly inside each other for more convenient storage. At Travel + Leisure, we've tested nearly 700 pieces of luggage in our lab, including 18 complete luggage sets in 2025. Our thorough testing process evaluates each set across key factors like capacity, organization, maneuverability, durability, design, and overall value, and we send the luggage sets out for six months of real-world testing with our team members. Our favorite set comes from a brand I've traveled with for years: the Calpak Evry Starter Bundle. The eight-piece bundle is spacious, lightweight, and durable, not to mention beautiful. In this list, there's a luggage set for all types of travelers. These additional luggage sets are our runners-up, with some faults that kept them off our main list. Carl Friedrik The Core Luggage Set: The suitcases offered ample space and a sleek design, but the checked bag had a faulty handle and zipper that tended to stick. Delsey Paris Chatelet Air 2.0 Set: Though attractive and easy to maneuver, the 21-inch spinner got more dented during the durability tests than other models. Travelpro VersaPack+ Carry-On / Large Check-In Spinner Set: The highly durable set includes shoe bags and packing cubes to keep you organized, but it's on the more expensive end compared to other products we tested and could benefit from a more lightweight construction. We've tested nearly 700 pieces of luggage in our T+L lab, including 18 luggage sets in 2025. To test each luggage set, we began by evaluating all the items in the set for design and functionality, inspecting the exterior and interior fabrics; storage features; and hardware such as zippers, fasteners, handles, and wheels. We then packed the bags with clothing, shoes, and accessories for a winter vacation, utilizing each bag's compression straps, pockets, and dividers when applicable. We assessed how spacious the bags were, whether the items on our packing list fit comfortably and easily, and noted any extra space provided by expandable designs. Next, we put the bags through a series of maneuverability tests, rolling them over a variety of surfaces, including carpet, cement pavers, and curbs, to see how easy they were to handle as a set. We pulled and pushed them on both two wheels and four, made turns through our obstacle course, and observing how stable the handles were during movement. We also assessed how easy it was to hoist carry-on bags into overhead bins and under airplane seats. For durability, we conducted drop tests by throwing them off tables and baseball bat tests in which we hit them repeatedly with metal bats to determine the bags' ability to withstand rough handling. We chose our favorite sets based on capacity, organization, design, maneuverability, durability, and value. After we tested each set in the lab, we sent it out to our team members to travel with over the course of six months for additional long-term testing. If you prefer to travel light or you're a solo traveler, a two-piece luggage set should suffice, which usually comes with a carry-on and checked suitcase. Overpackers, families, or people heading on extended stays may prefer three- or four-piece luggage sets that include multiple checked bags or a variety of different sizes. Some sets on this list even include weekenders, backpacks, packing cubes, Dopp kits, or travel pouches, all of which will come in handy for different trips. Softside suitcases are flexible, allowing for more expansion and easier packing in tight spaces, and they are typically lighter than hardside cases. Oftentimes, they feature convenient external pockets. However, they offer less protection for fragile items than suitcases with rigid exteriors. Hardside suitcases, on the other hand, provide more durability and better protection. They tend to be more water- and dirt-resistant but can be heavier. Nesting luggage offers the benefit of space efficiency, as you can store smaller bags inside larger ones when not in use. This is especially useful for travelers with limited storage space at home or those who want to pack light but still have the option to use multiple bags during a trip. Luggage sets offer several benefits, including cost savings, consistency in design, and convenience. Purchasing a set usually comes at a lower price than buying individual pieces separately, and a luggage set ensures that all your bags match, which provides a cohesive, stylish look while traveling. There are some sets on this list that allow you to choose different colors for different luggage pieces, though. Additionally, having different sizes in one set allows you to choose the right bag for each trip, whether it's a carry-on for a weekend getaway or a larger suitcase for extended vacations. The most basic luggage sets usually include a carry-on suitcase and one to two checked suitcases, but many offer additional coordinated pieces. For instance, our favorite luggage set from Calpak includes five packing cubes and a toiletry case. Some sets, like our pick from Béis, are fully customizable, allowing you to choose the pieces that best fit your travel needs. Make sure you know what is included in the set before buying so that you can decide which assortment will suit you best. Many luggage sets come with limited or lifetime warranties, so be sure to check the manufacturer's details on your specific products. Even lifetime warranties have certain stipulations; they often only cover manufacturing defects rather than normal wear and tear that may occur when traveling, like scratches or dents. We recommend inspecting your luggage before traveling with it so that you can make sure everything works properly, including the handles, the zippers, the locks, and the wheels. If you're worried about your luggage getting damaged during travel, you may want to consider getting travel insurance, since all warranty rules are at the discretion of the luggage companies. A seasoned style editor and avid traveler, Taria Ergas appreciates the intersection of style and function when it comes to choosing luggage. She has traveled with a spacious and gorgeously marbled Calpak luggage set for years. To compile this article, she spent hours poring over T+L testing notes and manufacturer details to learn the ins and outs of each product. Love a great deal?
