Click to prove you're human

Share — copy and redistribute the material in any medium or format for any purpose, even commercially. Adapt — remix, transform, and build upon the material for any purpose, even commercially. The licensor cannot revoke these freedoms as long as you follow the license terms. Attribution — You must give appropriate credit , provide a link to the license, and indicate if changes were made . You may do so in any reasonable manner, but not in any way that suggests the licensor endorses you or your use. ShareAlike — If you remix, transform, or build upon the material, you must distribute your contributions under the same license as the original. No additional restrictions — You may not apply legal terms or technological measures that legally restrict others from doing anything the license permits. You do not have to comply with the license for elements of the material in the public domain or where your use is permitted by an applicable exception or limitation . No warranties are given. The license may not give you all of the permissions necessary for your intended use. For example, other rights such as publicity, privacy, or moral rights may limit how you use the material. By Updated on: April 14, 2024 / 10:00 PM EDT / CBS News Scottie Scheffler secured his second Masters Tournament victory in three years on Sunday, finishing 11 under and four strokes up on his closest competitors.The 27-year-old American was tied with Ludvig Aberg, Max Homa and Collin Morikawa coming into the eighth hole before the world no. 1 hit three straight birdies to take the lead for good. Aberg ended up placing second in his debut at the Masters. Scheffler has been ranked No. 1 in the world for more than two years now and also won the 2022 Masters tournament, which was his first major championship win. Scottie Scheffler of the United States and caddie Ted Scott celebrate on the 18th green after winning the 2024 Masters Tournament at Augusta National Golf Club on April 14, 2024 in Augusta, Georgia. Andrew Redington/Getty Images The tournament was marked by unruly weather and at least one history-making moment. Golf icon and returning Masters champion Tiger Woods opened the tournament's last leg with his 100th round at the major.The Masters Tournament is an invitational event held yearly at the Augusta National Golf Club, a private golf course in Augusta, Georgia. Since its establishment in 1934, the tournament has grown to become one of the four most important championships in men's professional golf. The tournament typically takes place during the first week of April, so they are the first major event of every season, followed by the PGA Championships, the U.S. Open and the Open Championship, which are usually held in May, June and July, respectively. Scheffler and Morikawa held first and second on the 2024 Masters leaderboard, in that order, heading into the fourth round, on Sunday. They teed off in the afternoon as the last pairing of the day. Xander Schauffele and Bryson DeChambeau also began their play in a featured afternoon slot, with DeChambeau in fifth place on the leaderboard and Schauffele in sixth at the start of the round. Spanish golfer Jon Rahm, the 29-year-old who won the Masters tournament last year, returned to the course Sunday to defend his title, although his performances during the preceding rounds this weekend meant he was no longer competing to win. Woods had fallen out of contention, too, by the tournament's last day. After making his 24th consecutive cut on Friday, which was a new record at the championship, the star golfer went on to shoot a personal worst during the next and third round. At 48, Woods is a decorated golfing champion with five previous wins at the Masters. He teed off Sunday morning with the 23-year-old amateur Neal Shipley, commencing his 100th Masters round. Tiger Woods hits from the bunker on the seventh hole during final round at the Masters golf tournament at Augusta National Golf Club Sunday, April 14, 2024, in Augusta, Georgia. Charlie Riedel / AP Scheffler will receive a huge cash prize in addition to the traditional green jacket, which is given to the Masters winner each year. The overall purse for the 2024 Masters is $20 million, setting a new record-high and jumping $2 million from last year's prize fund. The champion this year will receive $3.6 million from the purse, which is also a new record and up from the $3.2 million payout that Rahm received for his Masters win in 2023. What remained of the total $18 million purse in that case was divided among 50 golfers who participated in the tournament, with their individual scores determining how much prize money they were eventually awarded. The Masters Golf Pro Golf PGA Tour Tiger Woods Emily Mae Czachor Emily Mae Czachor is a news editor at CBSNews.com. She typically covers breaking news, extreme weather and issues involving social and criminal justice. Emily Mae previously wrote for outlets like the Los Angeles Times, BuzzFeed and Newsweek. 2019 - 2025 © All Rights Reserved | Why We Love Golf | Privacy Policy | Terms and Conditions | Twitter | Instagram | Facebook | Site by Flux Creative The World No. 1 is now No. 1 at Augusta National Golf Club.Scottie Scheffler — who came into the week as the national favorite to win the 88th Masters Tournament — secured his second green jacket at Augusta National with a seven-birdie performance on Sunday in the final round to win the 2024 Masters.AdvertisementAdvertisementREQUIRED READING: Scottie Scheffler Masters history: Best finishes at Augusta National, career majors, winsWith the win on Sunday, Scheffler has not only continued to establish himself as one of the best golfers in the world, but also joins an elite class of golfers to have won multiple Masters Tournaments: He is now one of 18 to have earned the title of Masters champion at least twice in their careers.The 27-year-old Scheffler, who will become a father this month with his wife Meredith, has now won the Arnold Palmer Invitational, The Players Championship and the Masters all in the 2023-24 golf season.AdvertisementAdvertisementFinishing behind Scheffler was PGA rookie Ludvid Aberg, who finished with 7 under par in his first Masters Tournament. Max Homa, Collin Morikawa and Tommy Fleetwood rounded out the top five.Here's everything to know about the Masters in 2024, including who won and finishes:Scheffler won the 2024 Masters Tournament with an 11-under-par finish, beating Aberg, Homa and Morikawa. It is the second win at Augusta National Golf Club for Scheffler.Scheffler logged seven birdies on the day, offset by three bogeys, to finish his final round 4 under in Round 4. He finished it with a walk-in par to seal the deal:1. Scottie Scheffler (-11)T-4. Collin Morikawa (-4)T-4. Tommy Fleetwood (-4)T-6. Bryson DeChambeau (-2)8. Xander Schauffele (-1)Here's a look at Scheffler receiving his second green jacket from 2023 Masters champion, Jon Rahm:This article originally appeared on Augusta Chronicle: Who won Masters in 2024? Scores, results as Scottie Scheffler wins at Augusta National If you purchase a product or register for an account through one of the links on our site, we may receive compensation. Learn more > • Green might just be Scottie Scheffler’s color. The world’s No. 1 ranked golfer is now a two-time Masters champion, distancing himself from the field and dominating the course at Augusta National. He walks away from his four days worth of work with another green jacket, plenty of green for his wallet, and another trophy for the case. Now, gets to head home to become a father. Not a bad week. Scheffler held a one-shot lead heading into the final round and staved off challenges from Ludvig Åberg, Collin Morikawa, and Max Homa along the way. It was a masterful job from the father-to-be, who remained his normal stoic self, unfazed by the moment at a time when his competition was clearly feeling the heat. MORE: Scheffler's career earnings | Get to know Scheffler's caddieOn a warm day in Augusta, no one weathered the storm better than Scheffler, who left no doubt in the end. And with the state of the golf world in flux, only players from the PGA Tour finished in the top five. It’s a fitting moment, especially after Scheffler handed the green jacket off to Jon Rahm in 2023. Now it’s Scheffler’s turn to reclaim it from Rahm in 2024. The Sporting News tracked all the key moments from Sunday's Round 4 of the 2024 Masters Tournament. MORE: Watch the Masters live on Fubo (free trial)Masters leaderboard 2024 PlayerScore (hole)1.Scottie Scheffler-11 (F)2.Ludvig Åberg-7 (F)3.Collin Morikawa-4 (F) Max Homa-4 (F) Tommy Fleetwood-4 (F)6.Cameron Smith-2 (F) Bryson DeChambeau-2 (F)8.Xander Schauffele-1 (F)Click here for the entire 2024 Masters leaderboardMasters live updates, results, highlights from Sunday's Round 4(All times Eastern.)7:04 p.m.: VICTORY! Scheffler converts the par and lets out a roar after capturing his second green jacket. The 2024 Masters champion left no doubt. His stardom: Confirmed.Scottie Scheffler wins the 2024 Masters Tournament. pic.twitter.com/MNp4dUnV0z— Golf on CBS (@GolfonCBS) April 14, 20247 p.m.: One more shot to go for the leader, who fittingly places one within a few feet of the hole. Scheffler has dominated the course — and the competition — all weekend long. 6:56 p.m.: Scheffler is hanging out in the bunker off the tee, which is fitting considering he'll be able to spend plenty of time in the sand once this finishes. Taking it all in. pic.twitter.com/UEE5M6WVHW— PGA TOUR (@PGATOUR) April 14, 20246:54 p.m.: Max Homa won't walk away with a green jacket, but he can leave with his head high after his best finish in a major. A career-best major finish.Take a bow, @MaxHoma pic.twitter.com/UpCnuTnoQu— PGA TOUR (@PGATOUR) April 14, 20246:53 p.m.: Aberg drops in a birdie to stake his claim to second, finishing an impressive run over the last four days. The Swede finishes at 7 under par and turned in a 69 on the scorecard today.Solo second at Augusta National.The show has only just begun. pic.twitter.com/ypdt0lgVC6— PGA TOUR University (@PGATOURU) April 14, 20246:47 p.m.: As we wait for Scheffler to tee off at the 18th, here's how CBS bid farewell to Verne Lundquist as he nears the end of his final Masters broadcast. Verne, thank you for the memories. pic.twitter.com/pUB5nTPWk9— Golf on CBS (@GolfonCBS) April 14, 20246:44 p.m.: If this were any other sport, they'd consider pulling the starters and waving the white flag. Scheffler keeps his four shot lead heading to the 18th tee. All eyes on Scottie. pic.twitter.com/lAVtXOvmGN— PGA TOUR (@PGATOUR) April 14, 20246:34 p.m.: BIRDIE AGAIN! Scheffler is pulling away, going up by four with just two more holes to go. Why not?Scottie birdies No. 16 #themasters pic.twitter.com/rDeKHsSwBm— Golf on CBS (@GolfonCBS) April 14, 20246:25 p.m.: Scheffler saves par and heads to the 16th tee up by three. 6:22 p.m.: The ball doesn't really cooperate, as it continues to roll. He'll have a chance to save par, however. Meanwhile, Morikawa knocks down a birdie to keep his hopes alive. 6:19 p.m.: Scheffler finds the bunker at 15, but shouldn't be in too much danger with the cushion he has right now. 6:12 p.m.: Tommy Fleetwood drops in a par to finish his day, collecting a top five finish at Augusta. 6:07 p.m.: There's another birdie for Scheffler, who is now three ahead with four to go. Scottie Scheffler returns his lead to three strokes. #themasters pic.twitter.com/7dqcHbx6uJ— The Masters (@TheMasters) April 14, 20246:02 p.m.: OH WOW! Scheffler drops in a beauty at 14 to set up a birdie chance to stretch the lead to three. 5:57 p.m.: Aberg converts and stays two back of the lead. Ludvig Åberg, solo second. #themasters pic.twitter.com/NKJUUbT7Rp— The Masters (@TheMasters) April 14, 20245:55 p.m.: Scheffler drops in another birdie to move to 9 under. Aberg is going to need to sink a birdie himself, with a big chance coming at the 14th. 5:45 p.m.: We're ticking down to the final few holes now, with Scheffler holding a comfortable lead over Aberg after Homa fell off too. 5:25 p.m.: Morikawa has completely fallen apart now, dropping to 3 under after another double bogey. Scheffler also bogeys the 11th, dropping a shot to 8 under. 5:12 p.m.: Aberg's bogey attempt comes close, but he'll have to settle for double bogey at 11. Scheffler looks like he won't be denied, but Max Homa is trying to keep pace as the only challenger within striking distance right now. 5:10 p.m.: Aberg has found the water at the 11th. While it might be refreshing on a hot day, it doesn't bode well for his chances to track down Scheffler. 5 p.m.: Scheffler starts off the back nine in style, sinking another birdie to move two up on the field. 4:47 p.m.: Disaster strikes for Morikawa! He double bogeys the 9th and finds himself three shots back after Scheffler's birdie. He'll have a lot of work to do now on the back nine if he wants to get back into contention.4:35 p.m.: Now it's Åberg's turn to get in on the action! He birdies the 9th to stay tied for the lead. Three-way tie at the top. #themasters pic.twitter.com/7BLVux9j6s— The Masters (@TheMasters) April 14, 20244:32 p.m.: But Morikawa says, "not so fast!" He converts a birdie attempt of his own, moving back into a tie. 4:30 p.m.: Back to the lead! A familiar face is back on top as Scheffler sinks a birdie at the 8th to move to 7 under. 4:12 p.m.: Scheffler can't save par at the 7th and has to tap in for bogey. He is now in a three-way tie with Morikawa and Åberg. 4:11 p.m.: Morikawa just misses the birdie attempt, keeping him one back of the lead through seven. 4 p.m.: This should be setting up for an exciting finish, with so many players clustered together at the top of the leaderboard. 3:33 p.m.: Tommy Fleetwood continues to lurk at only four shots back, entering his name into the conversation for contention today. He's one to watch.After an accurate approach, Tommy Fleetwood birdies No. 7 and moves to three under par. #themasters pic.twitter.com/G9RXdkQzuJ— The Masters (@TheMasters) April 14, 20243:32 p.m.: And now Scheffler is back to 7 under, bogeying on the fourth. 3:20 p.m.: Birdie for Scheffler! He increases his lead to two.Scottie Scheffler gets up and down from the greenside bunker on No. 3 for birdie to extend his lead. #themasters pic.twitter.com/P0TdVyaCpo— The Masters (@TheMasters) April 14, 20243:11 p.m.: It's been an up-and-down start for DeChambeau, who is now marching back after a brutal start. He's back to 3 under.With back-to-back birdies on hole Nos. 4 and 5, Bryson DeChambeau reaches three under par. #themasters pic.twitter.com/sqDBGP8LsG— The Masters (@TheMasters) April 14, 20243 p.m.: So far, everyone is holding steady through the first couple of holes. Ludvig Åberg, however, sunk a birdie to inch a little closer. On No. 2, Ludvig Åberg makes a lengthy birdie putt to move to five under par. #themasters pic.twitter.com/4wFkRqFc7t— The Masters (@TheMasters) April 14, 20242:36 p.m.: Our final group has officially teed off, with all eyes on Scheffler and Morikawa.2:24 p.m.: EAGLE! Cam Smith enters his name into the race atop the leaderboard after dropping in an eagle from the bunker at the 2nd. He's now 3 under and four back of the lead. From the bunker, Cameron Smith holes out for eagle on No. 2 to move to three under par. #themasters pic.twitter.com/qMZd33PtQL— The Masters (@TheMasters) April 14, 20242:15 p.m.: The final contenders are now starting to make their way to the tees, with Bryson DeChambeau sending his first shot right into a bunker. 2:05 p.m.: We're getting set for final round action and the stars are subscribers to the "look good, play good" mentality. Scottie Scheffler pic.twitter.com/kE29M4hYXw— PGA TOUR (@PGATOUR) April 14, 20241:30 p.m.: Another prominent storyline comes in the form of Verne Lundquist, who will be calling his final round at the Masters today. It's a 40 year run behind the CBS mic that is coming to a close. Thank you, Verne. #themasters pic.twitter.com/YJJTXgIfXd— The Masters (@TheMasters) April 14, 20241 p.m.: One of the biggest things to watch today will be Scottie Scheffler. And that's not because of his play on the course, but rather whether he ends up withdrawing. The Scheffler's are expecting the birth of their first child any day now and if it happens today, he'll leave — even if he's leading. If Scottie Scheffler's wife goes into labor, he still plans on leaving the Masters to be there."I'm sticking to my word. Fortunately I'll be here at the Masters for quite some time. And I think you only have your first child once."pic.twitter.com/xS43ukGTzN— Awful Announcing (@awfulannouncing) April 14, 202412:30 p.m.: Augusta National is an exclusive place, one that many might never get a chance to experience in person. Instead we sit, living through the TV cameras every year. This drone footage provides an incredible point of view for those that hope to one day see it with their own eyes. Flying through the cathedral of pines. #themasters pic.twitter.com/YNiXUOFtmB— The Masters (@TheMasters) April 13, 202412:15 p.m.: By day's end, one person will be left wearing a green jacket and everyone else will be green with envy. If you're wondering what the rules are for this piece of fabric, look no further:By the day’s end, a new Masters champion will be presented with the Green Jacket, the game’s most important piece of fabric.Here is its story, including some of the rules required of its winner, on this beautiful Augusta Sunday morning: pic.twitter.com/gyyiETZTLJ— Jeff Darlington (@JeffDarlington) April 14, 202412 p.m.: Here's a look at today's hole locations that the players will have to contend with. Hole locations for the final round of the Masters Tournament. #themasters pic.twitter.com/SYVGTxsEdf— The Masters (@TheMasters) April 14, 202411:30 a.m.: As one would expect, it's crowded at Augusta today. Plenty of patrons are on-hand as Scottie Scheffler looks to hold onto a one-stroke lead and win his second Masters in the last three years.Patron perspective. #themasters pic.twitter.com/Jw4SKqujAb— The Masters (@TheMasters) April 14, 202411 a.m.: Tiger Woods started the Masters well, but he shot his worst-ever round at the major Saturday when he carded an 8-over 80 for the day. He's en route to another rocky round, as he's 4 over through 7 holes Sunday. He is now 15 over for the tournament, which puts him in 60th place. That's last among players who made the cut.What channel is the Masters on today?TV channel: CBSTV broadcast times: 2-7:30 p.m. ETLive streams: Masters.com, Paramount+, FuboThe Masters will air live on CBS for the final day of the weekend. Televised coverage will begin at 2 p.m. ET on Sunday, with Jim Nantz, Trevor Immelman, Ian Baker-Finch, Dottie Pepper, Frank Nobilo, Andrew Catalon and Amanda Balionis handling commentary duties from Augusta.Masters.com will provide free live-streaming coverage of the tournament throughout the day beginning at 8:30 a.m. and running through the conclusion of play at around 7:30 p.m. Paramount+ will also carry a simulcast of the TV broadcast.Here is the full breakdown of the Masters TV schedule (all times Eastern): Date Time (ET) TV channel Thursday, April 113-7:30 p.m.ESPN, FuboFriday, April 123-7:30 p.m.ESPN, Fubo Saturday, April 133-7 p.m.CBS, FuboSunday, April 142-7 p.m.CBS, FuboMasters tee times for SundayTee time (ET)Group9:15 a.m.Adam Hadwin, Vijay Singh9:25 a.m.Jake Knapp, Grayson Murray9:35 a.m.Tiger Woods, Neal Shipley9:45 a.m.Tom Kim, Denny McCarthy9:55 a.m.Kurt Kitayama, Thorbjorn Olsen10:05 a.m.Erik van Rooyen, Eric Cole10:15 a.m.Jose Maria Olazabal, Camilo Villegas10:25 a.m.Russell Henley, Jason Day10:35 a.m.Keegan Bradley, Min Woo Lee10:45 a.m.Si Woo Kim, J.T. Poston11:05 a.m.Corey Conners, Brooks Koepka11:15 a.m.Phil Mickelson, Shane Lowry11:25 a.m.Taylor Moore, Sahith Theegala11:35 a.m.Akshay Bhatia, Harris English11:45 a.m.Jon Rahm, Tony Finau11:55 a.m.Hideki Matsuyama, Luke List12:05 p.m.Ryan Fox, Rickie Fowler12:25 p.m.Danny Willett, Adam Scott12:35 p.m.Will Zalatoris, Tyrrell Hatton12:45 p.m.Rory McIlroy, Joaquin Niemann12:55 p.m.Matthieu Pavon, Sepp Straka1:05 p.m.Matt Fitzpatrick, Patrick Reed1:15 p.m.Adam Schenk, Chris Kirk1:25 p.m.Patrick Cantlay, Lucas Glover1:45 p.m.Cameron Young, Tommy Fleetwood1:55 p.m.Byeong-hun An, Cameron Smith2:05 p.m.Cameron Davis, Nicolai Hojgaard2:15 p.m.Bryson DeChambeau, Xander Schauffele2:25 p.m.Max Homa, Ludvig Aberg2:35 p.m.Scottie Scheffler, Collin Morikawa 3:57 p.m. Defending champion Jon Rahm (+750 per tournament odds) concludes his trip at Augusta. The LIV superstar failed to get anything going this week and finished outside the top 40. Shortly after the conclusion of Rahm’s round, Scheffler left his long birdie bid on No. 6 short. He remains one stroke ahead of Morikawa (+400) and Homa (+500). But Åberg (+400) just stuck his approach on seven; he’s inching closer toward history. 4:15 p.m. Tree trouble for Scheffler on the seventh hole results in another missed green for the 2022 champion and, ultimately, a bogey. Scheffler (+115) is now tied with Morikawa (+360) and Åberg (+230). Morikawa has put himself consistently in position to score Sunday afternoon but has been unable to cash in on a handful of birdie putts. Homa (+550) is now back within a shot with Fleetwood (+9000), and DeChambeau (+5500) is within 3.4:31 p.m. Homa (+400) cleans up his short birdie putt on eight and now moves to 6 under par for the tournament. He was briefly tied for the lead before Scheffler (-110), who has a bounce-back birdie or better percentage of 43% this season, and Morikawa (+230), who had not made a birdie since No. 8 Saturday, both birdied the eighth.4:48 p.m. A three-shot swing in the final pairing as world No. 1 Scheffler (-175) follows up his birdie on No. 8 with another on No. 9 while Morikawa (+1800) makes double bogey after failing to make it out of a greenside bunker. Åberg (+260) sits alone in second just a single shot behind Scheffler. 5:02 p.m. After an untimely double bogey on No. 9, Morikawa (+2500) failed to bounce back with a birdie. The two-time major champion finds himself four back of Scheffler (-250), who just drained a seven-foot birdie putt for his third straight birdie. Meanwhile, Fleetwood’s (+15000) nice 3-under round has him in solo fifth place.5:30 p.m. Pars are in short supply all of a sudden as the four players atop the leaderboard have each made a bogey or worse in the last 10 minutes. Åberg (+850) started the parade with a double bogey at 11. Scheffler (-550) followed with a bogey at 11. Morikawa (+9000) doubles No. 11, and minutes later Homa (+1100) double bogeys No. 12. Fleetwood (+15000) is the beneficiary, as he is making pars and making up ground, sitting now at -4 through 15 holes. Scheffler leads at -8. Åberg and Homa are tied for second at -5, followed by Fleetwood.5:41 p.m. The carnage continues through Amen Corner; however, Scheffler (-500) was able to find the green on No. 12 and finish the hole with a par, maintaining a three-stroke lead over Åberg (+400) and Homa (+1200). After he failed to convert the birdie attempt, the window for Morikawa (+20000) is closing. With just six holes to play, mistake-free golf is the recipe for the leader, Scheffler.5:56 p.m.Nobody is playing better late in the day than Fleetwood, but his putter has not heated up on the back nine as required if he is to put on the green jacket at day’s end. With only No. 18 remaining, he sits at -4, five shots behind Scheffler (-750 to win), who just birdied the par-5 13th hole. Åberg has climbed back within striking distance and is 7-under through 14 following back-to-back birdies. 6:08 p.m. Scheffler is dialed in right now. With a two-stroke lead over Åberg, he stuck it within a foot on No. 14. Make that back-to-back birdies for the Texas native. He now moves three clear of Åberg and is an overwhelming -3500 favorite. Amid all the action, on 15, Åberg found the trees off the tee and was forced to lay up on the reachable par 5. Holes are running out for those trailing. It almost feels like Scheffler’s tournament to lose.6:24 p.m.Scheffler began the Masters as an overwhelming favorite, and he is delivering as advertised. Closing in on his second Masters championship, he is now three holes from victory following a par on the 15th hole to maintain his three-stroke advantage over Åberg. Homa and Morikawa sit five shots off the pace. Fleetwood has posted a round of 69 to finish the tournament at 4 under par. 6:35 p.m. After a solid approach on 16, Scheffler took a long look at the leaderboard as he walked toward the green. Soaking it in with three holes remaining and a three-stroke lead, it must now start to feel real. He is inching closer to history and joining the select group of multi-major winners. That moment didn’t faze him in the least. Scheffler stood over his lengthy putt and dropped it right down the center of the cup. He’s standing on No. 17 with a four-stroke lead and the betting odds taken off the board.6:48 p.m.On Sunday, the back nine at Augusta is supposed to bring golfers to their knees. Not the case with the leader, Scheffler. The world No. 1 has been dominant on the closing nine with four birdies and is in control, sitting at 11 under par through 17 holes. He is a couple of swings away from another major championship. Copyright © 2025 PGA TOUR, Inc. All rights reserved.PGA TOUR, PGA TOUR Champions, and the Swinging Golfer design are registered trademarks. The Korn Ferry trademark is also a registered trademark, and is used in the Korn Ferry Tour logo with permission. Share — copy and redistribute the material in any medium or format for any purpose, even commercially. Adapt — remix, transform, and build upon the material for any purpose, even commercially. The licensor cannot revoke these freedoms as long as you follow the license terms. Attribution — You must give appropriate credit , provide a link to the license, and indicate if changes were made . You may do so in any reasonable manner, but not in any way that suggests the licensor endorses you or your use. ShareAlike — If you remix, transform, or build upon the material, you must distribute your contributions under the same license as the original. No additional restrictions — You may not apply legal terms or technological measures that legally restrict others from doing anything the license permits. You do not have to comply with the license for elements of the material in the public domain or where your use is permitted by an applicable exception or limitation . No warranties are given. The license may not give you all of the permissions necessary for your intended use. For example, other rights such as publicity, privacy, or moral rights may limit how you use the material.

- licizi
- hacutuku
- jlg 860sj specs pdf
- mego
- https://assets-global.website-files.com/675504d3a664c06ea3ee0807/68493ac722155588756e05c8_kenofu.pdf