Discovering new apps on your Apple Watch can be an exciting adventure, but with a vast catalog and daily additions, it can also be overwhelming. After using the Apple Watch for 10 years, I've compiled a list of the top 50 apps across various categories to help you find what you're looking for. These apps cover fitness, productivity, and more, including health and wellbeing tools, social media options, and AI companions. The best part is that most are free or offer a free version, making them accessible to everyone. Some standout apps include Things 3, a productivity manager that helps with to-do lists and project management; Todoist, a popular to-do list and calendar app with over 42 million users; and Fantastical, a premium calendar app known for its stunning interface and features like tasks, calendar sets, and conference calls. Uptime offers bite-sized learning experiences in the form of books, podcasts, documentaries, and courses, while Petey is an AI companion that lets you interact with OpenAI's large language model right from your wrist. It also integrates with Apple Music for seamless playlists creation. Whether you're looking to upgrade your fitness routine, boost productivity, or simply pass time with a quick game, these apps are here to help. Gadgets like Maps, Money Coach, Structured, Noted, Focus, and Morpho Convert are available for download from the App Store, offering a range of useful features on-the-go. These apps cater to different needs such as converting text to speech, tracking finances, planning daily tasks, recording voice notes, improving productivity, and performing unit conversions. For those with an Apple Watch, these apps can be controlled directly from the wrist, providing quick access to essential information like budget limits, recent transactions, and task reminders. The best Apple Watch fitness apps let you track your workouts, heart rate, and progress in real-time. Here are a few top choices: Just Press Record allows you to record audio on the go with just one tap, while SmartGym offers personalized follow-along workouts with AI-powered timers. StepsApp provides detailed tracking of daily activities, including calorie goals and step count, with GPS integration for accurate distance tracking. Strava is a popular choice for outdoor enthusiasts, offering leaderboards, maps, and real-time data on splits, time, heart rate, and energy expenditure. Peloton's Apple Watch app helps users track their progress while completing workouts, whether indoors or outdoors. MyFitnessPal, Runna, Nike Training Club, AllTrails, Golfshot, WorkOutDoors - MyFitnessPal helps manage nutrition and weight loss with barcode scanning, while offering calorie tracking and nutrient breakdown.- Runna is a running coach app providing personalized training plans for various distances, along with community support and interval guidance.- Nike Training Club offers home workouts, yoga, mindfulness, and HIIT, along with workout tracking and recovery analysis.- AllTrails features 450,000 routes worldwide, offering guided hikes, biking, and runs with tracking and automatic data export to the Apple Health app.- Golfshot tracks golf games and provides course insights, while also analyzing swing performance through GPS rangefinder capabilities.- WorkOutDoors is an expansive outdoor exploration app covering running, cycling, and more, complemented by the Apple Watch app's features. The Athlytic app measures heart rate variability and resting heart rate to provide a recovery score and readiness assessment. It offers 24/7 monitoring of vital heart health metrics, enabling users to track strain and stress levels and optimize their training schedule. Calm, another popular app, features guided meditation programs with breathing exercises, stretching, and mindfulness. The Apple Watch app provides quick access to these sessions, allowing for seamless control without the need to reach for a phone. Gentler Streak focuses on sustainable health and wellness practices, offering sleep analysis, menstrual cycle tracking, and activity monitoring. The app emphasizes gradual progress over guilt-edged streaks, providing real-time tracking of heart rates and workout stats. Headspace is a well-known meditation and mindfulness platform featuring quick-hit sessions, guided courses, and 365-day plans. On the Apple Watch, users can start programs, control audio, and eliminate distractions during mindfulness practice. Flo Period & Cycles Tracker helps users predict their period, understand symptoms, and track pregnancy. The app provides monthly cycle reports, symptom predictions, and more, with a convenient quick glance countdown to ovulation on the Apple Watch. Virtual health assistants, educational content, and lifestyle tracking apps are available for download from the App Store. Apps like Streaks, Water Tracker, Sleep Cycle, Heart Analyzer, TravelCitymapper, and Flighty cater to different needs, including building habits, tracking water intake, monitoring sleep quality, analyzing heart health, navigating cities, and managing flights. With new apps available for download from the App Store, users can customize their Apple Watch faces with flight data and more. Slopes is a ski and snowboarding companion that records mountain sessions in depth, providing trip planning, interactive resort maps, and smart workout recording. iTranslate Converse offers real-time two-way translation in 38 languages, automatically detecting correct language and allowing for natural conversations without scrolling. Google Maps on the Apple Watch provides turn-by-turn directions, navigation, and offline maps. For entertainment, Overcast is a top alternative to Apple Podcasts, offering better downloading and library controls, as well as features like Smart Speed and Voice Boost. Spotify users can also control playback and devices directly from their wrist, and Audible app provides listening and playback controls for audiobooks and podcasts. Box Box Club is an ultimate Formula 1 fan app that offers a race calendar, season stats, driver tracking, and various widgets for quick information. On the Apple Watch, users can create custom faces with F1 complications like race dates and Constructors points. CARROT Weather is a popular weather app that provides detailed updates with rich satellite imagery and AI-powered forecasts in different personalities. Cheatsheet allows users to store important info like phone numbers and cheat codes on their wrist for quick access. PCalc is a scientific calculator app with an Apple Watch companion, enabling calculations, data input, and trigonometry. Authy offers two-factor authentication convenience with its Apple Watch app, while Lens lets users browse Instagram on their wrist. WatchChat 2If WhatsApp is your go-to messaging app, WatchChat 2 for Apple Watch is a must-have. With it, you can send and receive messages, voice recordings, and even view full HD photos on the go. The app also supports various keyboard layouts like FlickType. Next up are some fun games! Snake.io brings back memories of classic Nokia games, with a modern twist. Games for Watch is another great option, offering 10 free games like Tic Tac Toe, Pass the Ball, and Pong, with premium titles available for purchase too! Peak - Brain Training brings brain-training exercises to your wrist, with over 45 games across six categories. Work on memory, attention, problem-solving, mental agility, language coordination, or emotional control. Lastly, Ping Pong is a retro version of the classic Pong game, playable on your Apple Watch. Unlock new game modes and difficulties for endless fun! Unfortunately, many users have been experiencing issues with their weather widgets since recent updates. The symptoms include:* Constant crashes (2-3 days) followed by random periods of functioning* Failure to load weather data when clicking on the widget* Notifications not always arriving on time from iPhone 12 Pro MaxHere's what happens: notifications that weren't initially shown on the watch suddenly appear in bulk, usually around 6-10 hours later. This even occurs if I've already viewed them on my phone beforehand. It seems to me that your tweak of the notification cache caused this glitch. Additionally, sometimes a notification briefly appears on the watch before vanishing forever - I think this happens when the notification module crashes. Can you please resolve these issues as soon as possible and restore everything to its previous working state, so my Series-6 watch can function properly once more?
